Won't Give Up Recount, Says Fred M. Alger

By JAMES A. O. CROWE
Associated Press Writer

"We have no intention of giving it up," said Fred M. Alger Jr. as he continued to lose votes in the recount of his long battle for the Michigan governorship today.

As the recount began its fourth day, Gov. Williams, the Democratic candidate for reelection to a third term had gained 356 votes.

This was the net result of completed recounts of 424 precincts in 30 counties, out of the 3,463 in 83 counties scheduled to be tallied again.

Rural Districts Lag

The gain shoved Williams' lead to 8,974. Alger had called for the recount when the official canvass showed Williams ahead by 8,618 votes out of the more than 2,800,000 cast.

In Wayne county, with 103 precincts rechecked, Alger picked up 131 votes. Williams lost 26 votes Wednesday when initialing errors were discovered in one ward.

Williams, meanwhile, was raking 405 more votes in 307 outstate precincts.

County officials in rural districts were definitely dragging their feet. They had one ear cocked for a possible cancellation by Alger, and were not planing to spend any more money than they had to.

Hopes For Break

The recount was suspended altogether, though temporarily, in Midland and Lenawee counties yesterday. Counting was slated to begin again today.

In Berrien County, Republican talliers failed to show up yesterday.

But Alger gave every indication he planned to see it through for a few more days at least.

He said he was "reasonably sure" the recount would continue into next week.

Thirty more counties are scheduled to begin recounting Monday, and Alger was apparently hoping against hope that he would get some better breaks.

Growing Opposition Handicaps Efforts For Reviving WSB

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman, striving to get his ailing wage controls program functioning again, was confronted today by snowballing opposition from organized business and one big segment of organized labor.

The President, just returned from Independence, Mo., may tell a morning news conference what luck he is having in persuading industry members to serve on the stalemated Wage Stabilization Board.

Metal Curbs Relaxed

The U. S. Chamber of Commerce has openly urged all businessmen to refuse posts on the WSB and both the Chamber and National Association of Manufacturers demanded that Truman kill off both wage and price controls.

Other government curbs, meanwhile, were being relaxed.

R. A. McDonald, chief of the National Production Author, last night ordered curbs on use of scarce metals for construction eased considerably beginning Jan. 1 because of an improving supply.

He also ruled the automobile industry may plan 1½ million units in the April-May-June period next year, compared with 1¼ million allotted for the January-March quarter.

President Persistent

Walter Reuther, new president of the CIO, arrived in town to try to put over the CIO's new anti-wage controls policy. The nation's other big organized labor group, the AFL, so far is saying controls should be continued.

Truman, faced with this growing clamor for an end to economic curbs, has been insisting he should turn over a functioning stabilization program to president-elect Eisenhower next month.

There was no indication that Truman's attitude has changed. He and his economic stabilization chief, Roger L. Putnam, have been trying to round up enough business-

President Hits Generals With His Old Rancor

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman today rejected suggestions that he hold a White House conference with Generals Eisenhower and MacArthur — and he blasted both of them.

Truman called President-elect Eisenhower's campaign announcement that he would go to Korea a piece of demagoguery.

Got Misinformation

And he told his news conference that MacArthur should have reported to him after he returned from Japan following MacArthur's ouster last year, Truman said that is what any decent man would have done.

Truman said he travelled more than 14,000 miles to see MacArthur at Wake Island and about all he got for that was a lot of misinformation.

Sure War Was Over

Asked what this misinformation was, Truman said MacArthur told him at their historic meeting at Wake Island, Oct. 14, 1950:

1. The Chinese would not move into Korea.

2. It would be possible to send a division of the Regular U. S. Army from Korea to Germany for occupation purposes to relieve another division by January, 1951.

3. That MacArthur was sure the war was over.

Truman fired MacArthur April 11, 1951.

MacArthur gave no details of any Korean peace plan in his New York speech last Friday. He did say it would not lead to unduly heavy Allied casualties.

In swift succession yesterday came:

1. Disclosure that Eisenhower intends to meet MacArthur in New York to discuss with him details of the plan, and that Eisenhower would consult MacArthur in the future on Far East policy although there are no plans now to give him an official role in the new Republican administration.

2. Announcement by Truman that "if anyone has a reasonable plan for ending the Korean fighting in an honorable way—in a way that will not lead directly into a great war—that plan should be presented at once to the President." MacArthur wasn't named, but aides said there was no doubt Truman

Proposals To Settle Holy Land Squabbles Reach Vote In U. N.

By OSGOOD CARUTHERS

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The U. N. votes today on its proposals for getting Arabs and Jews to settle their bitter quarrel over the Holy Land.

Winding up its debate on thorny Palestine—where Israel and her Arab neighbors still are technically in a state of war—the General Assembly's Special Political Committee was expected to reach a vote on three rival resolutions soon after today's session opened.

Acceptable To Israel

The resolutions were a Western-backed compromise move urging direct peace talks, an Arab-supported plan to enlarge the present U. N. Palestine Commission and seat it in Jerusalem, and an 11th-hour Syrian proposal to throw into the World Court the chief problem of resettling Arab refugees from homes in Jewish-held areas.

Most likely to win majority support was the eight-power compromise plan—backed by the U. S. and Britain and declared acceptable to Israel—urging the two sides to start direct negotiations for a peace settlement as quickly as possible. The Arab states, however, have blasted the proposal as vague and unworkable.

Refugees Are Problem

The Arabs favor a proposal, introduced by Pakistan, Indonesia, Iran and Afghanistan, calling for U. N. Palestine Mediation Commission to five members and location of its headquarters in Jerusalem. The commission now is made up of the U. S., Turkey and France.

The Arab nations also have complained that israel has ignored past U. N. resolutions calling for the internationalization of Jerusalem, the right of some 900,000 Arab refugees to return to their homes in Palestine and final settlement of Israeli frontiers.

They claim that the Western-backed resolution—proposed by Canada, Cuba, Denmark, Ecuador, The Netherlands, Norway, Panama and Uruguay—waters down this issue by merely calling attention to those resolutions and urging the two parties to agree on a final settlement.

Debate also continued in the Assembly's No. 1 Political Committee on the explosive Tunisian issue.

Reds Hurl 3000 Men Into Attack

By GEORGE McARTHUR

SEOUL (AP)—Chinese Communists stabbed through withering Allied artillery fire today to hurl South Korean defenders from Little Nori hill on the central front for the second time in 17 hours.

Frontline officers said the Reds hurled 3,000 men into the attacks their biggest in a month.

South Korean troops withdrew at dusk in the face of a two-company (300 to 350 men) Communist attack. The Chinese advanced through a thundering 1,000-round artillery barrage from their own guns.

Associated Press correspondent Milo Farneti reported from the front that Communist big guns were stepping up the savage bombardment that began just before the Reds opened the see-saw battle shortly after midnight.

An estimated 10,000 rounds of artillery and mortar fire fell on Allied positions.

Farneti said the Reds suffered an estimated 270 casualties—152 killed and at least 118 wounded.

Torture Slaying Case Is Puzzle

LESLIE (AP)—A baffling angle was injected today into the investigation of the torture slaying of Mrs. Viola Miers, 64-year-old widowed recluse.

The puzzler was this: Why did the kitchen table in Mrs. Miers' home remain untouched from Nov. 23 until the time of her death, presumably sometime Monday?

The question arose yesterday when Charles E. Glassel, held for some 24 hours for questioning, accompanied officers to the Miers' home. He said he was positive that the table settings had remained unchanged since the time he had dinner at the woman's home Nov. 23. He said remnants of that meal still were on the table.

Glassel, 22, of Wyandotte, was released last night. He was a friend of Mrs. Miers.

Mrs. Miers' body, the hands and feet severely burned by the slayer, was found Tuesday by neighbors. Medical experts said she apparently had been dead about 24 hours.

New Attorney General Ready For Cleanup In Justice Department

By DON WHITEHEAD

ABOARD USS HELENA, En Route to Hawaii (AP) — An authoritative source disclosed today that Atty. Gen - designate Herbert Brownell has completed plans for a giant housecleaning in the Department of Justice.

Brownell, the informant said, plans to fire anyone whose name has been even remotely linked with government scandal.

Good Men To Stay

Brownell's first move after taking office Jan. 20, the source said, will be to sweep out of office virtually all those in the policy-making level of the department. The cleanout also will affect attorneys in the Washington offices, and U. S. district attorneys and U. S. marshals.

"If he finds a good career man who has been doing a good job, Brownell will keep him whether he's a Democrat or a Republican," the informant added.

Brownell was one of President-elect Dwight Eisenhower's top political advisers in the presidential campaign.

Staff of 31,000

It is understood he will give top priority to investigating cases dealing with communism and subversion.

Next on the list will be a wholesale review of tax fraud cases in which no action has been taken.

He also will dig into pending antitrust cases.

Brownell has told friends he intends to prosecute wherever there is any evidence of fraud.

He is said to feel that the office of attorney general has been permitted to sink in presitge and he intends to restore it to a new and higher level.

The Justice Department has about 31,000 employes. Most of them are civil service workers who will not be affected by the turnover.

Oakland County Checks On Vice

PONTIAC (AP) — Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick said today a one-man grand jury investigation of affairs in Oakland County's Royal Oak township will start Jan. 6.

Hartrick said he would sign an order for the probe today, starting the machinery in motion. Circuit Judge John Simpson of Jackson has been assigned as juror.

Michigan Attorney General Frank Millard petitioned early in November for the investigation.

He alleged that "certain persons confederated in a conspiracy to violate state laws relating to elections, administration of schools, gambling, illegal sales of narcotics, prostitution and obstructing justice by bribery and coercion."

This, said Millard, was uncovered in a one-year investigation of township affairs by his office.

The attorney general reported that 28 arrests involving sale of dope and illegal liquor and gambling were made during his investigation.

He said a one-man grand jury action was needed because "the power of subpoena is necessary to gather more information and to bring suspected persons to trial."

Democrat Predicts Brief GOP Honeymoon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Hale Boggs (D-La) said today he expects the Republican "honeymoon" to last about six months or possibly through the first session of the next Congress.

By that time, he told a reporter, the supporters of Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) in Congress probably will refuse to go along with some of President-elect Eisenhower's proposals.

"For a time — while patronage plums are being dangled in front of them—the Republicans in Congress probably will support Eisenhower," Boggs said. "But my guess is that the honeymoon will be over by the end of the first session."

Mail Cargo Arrives

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The largest shipment of mail ever to arrive here from the Far East was unloaded yesterday from the transport Pvt. Joe E. Mann.

The mail, much of it Christmas presents from servicemen, was made up of 300,000 packages and 11,000 sacks. It weighed 766 tons.

Brothers, 11 And 12, Have Spree On $160 At Oklahoma City

By LLOYD WOLFE

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Everyone has a yen to live like a millionaire. And no one had the desire more than two young Oklahoma City brothers.

The boys, age 11 and 12, found temptation too much of a foe as they sat near a woman with a bulging purse Monday night at the Bethel Center. Later, when they looked inside the purse, they found what appeared to be a million dollars—or, even better, $160 cold cash.

Tips For Playmates

The next day they skipped to school loaded. Police, recapping their adventure, said they threw handfuls of dollar bills in the air and watched their schoolmates scramble for the money.

One of them tipped a playmate $1.25 for a shoeshine. He also handed a lad a quarter to brush his coat.

As the day wore on, and spending money became dull, the 12-year-old found a way to liven things up. He gave a girl $2 for four kisses.

The brothers handed a schoolmate a $20 bill and ordered: "Here, son. Go get me some change." When the friend returned he was tipped $5 for his trouble.

No Money, No Friends

Hot dog stands in the neighborhood suddenly found they were doing a banner business. At one point the boys got brave enough to ask their homeroom teacher if they could throw a big Christmas party. The suspicious teacher turned thumbs down on the proposal.

When the boys ran out of cash—they also ran out of friends. By that time police had been informed of the spending spree and collared them.

The father promised full restitution, but the police decided they would get back as much money as they could. Juvenile Officer G. E. Bailey reported so far they have collected $14.90.

One boy, he said, had only a nickel left—but he generously returned it. Several others also explained they had already spent their money.

In the meantime, the young millionaires found themselves penniless, friendless and facing the wrath of their angry father.

Old Kalamazoo Firm Disbanded

KALAMAZOO (AP)—The Kalamazoo Stove and Furnace Co. will cease operations tomorrow —just 50 years after the appliance firm was founded.

Stockholders, at a special meeting here yesterday, voted to end the corporate life of the firm. Under state law the company will have three years to wind up its business affairs.

The decision ended a long battle for control of the company which started last year when the firm's stove and range business was sold to the Nash-Kelvinator Corp.

The company's assets, under the presidency of Arthur L. Blakeslee, rose from a half a million dollars in 1921 to more than $6,930,000 at the close of business last year.

Taxi Costs $395

VANCOUVER, B. C. (AP) — A Northern British Columbia Indian chief believes in doing things in the grand manner.

When a writ of habeas corpus arrived at his small village of Topley ordering him to produce his three grandchildren in a court custody case here, Chief J. Daniel Leon bundled them into a taxicab and set off.

Some 700 miles later the chief got the taxi bill—for $395.

Red Sailors Barred In American Ports

WASHINGTON (AP)—The political complexion of crew members of some big foreign ships—including British and French — is to be screened by U. S. immigration inspectors before the men are allowed ashore at American ports. Communists are automatically barred.

The Justice Department said yesterday this is one of the steps being taken to comply with the new McCarran-Walter immigration Act, which goes into effect, Dec. 24.

The British, reportedly concerned about delays which could be caused by questioning the 2,000-member crews of such ships as the Queen Mary and Queen Elizabet, are expected to lodge a protest with this government.

Fire Losses Light

LANSING (AP) —Michigan's forest fire destruction this year amounted to slightly more than half of the 10-year average, the State Conservation Department said today. To date, 1,067 fires burned over 12,622 acres.

Norwegian Freighter Sinks In Collision Off Alcatraz Island

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Norwegian freighter Fernstream sank inside the Bay today shortly after colliding with the freighter Hawaiian Rancher, but the Fernstream's crew escaped in lifeboats.

The crash occurred just west of Alcatraz Island in a murky fog and drizzle.

The Hawaiian Rancher immediately flashed an S O S and the Coast Guard hurriedly dispatched three rescue boats to the scene.

The Coast Guard later reported that the Fernstream's crew of 42 men had taken to the lifeboats when their ship began to go under.

The Coast Guard said there was only one minor injury reported—a Fernstream crew member suffered a wrist injury.

Winds Delay Rescue Of Freighter On Reef

ABERDEEN, Wash. (AP) — Rising winds early today spelled trouble for Coast Guard boats attempting to pull the ground freighter Yorkmar free from its sandy berth off the mouth of Grays Harbor.

A Weather Bureau report said 30 to 45 mile an hour winds would continue to buffet the 7,207-ton Liberty ship through Thursday, complicating if not preventing a hoped for attempt to drop a messenger line aboard from a helicopter.

Talking Horse Says It's Alger

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Michigan Republicans and Democrats, tensely watching the current ballot recount in their state's gubernatorial race, could ease up a bit if they applied a "little horse sense."

"Lady Wonder," Richmond's fabulous talking horse, has the eventual outcome of the recount all figured out.

A reporter approached the amazing animal yesterday and asked the big question on the minds of Michigan politicians: "Who will be Michigan's next governor, Williams or Alger?"

The horse which surged into national prominence recently when a question asked by a Massachusetts woman that led to the discovery of the body of a four-year-old boy, missing for two years, slowly pecked out the answer on her special typewriter.

"A-L-G-E-R", was "Lady's" uncanny reply.

Transport Missing With Crew Of Five; May Be Down Safely

RENO (AP) — An Air Force C47 transport with a crew of five and one passenger is missing in the Nevada-Utah border region but the assistant commander of Stead Air Force base is hopeful they made an emergency landing.

"The plane is a tough old bird and the crew is experienced," said Col. Dimitrios Stampados. The C47 is the Air Force version of commercial airlines' veteran DC3.

"I feel they've probably put down on some prairie and we'll find them this morning."

Air force and Civil Air patrol planes begin a search at dawn for the C47.

Names of the six on the C47, all from Stead AFB, were withheld.

The Air Force transport vanished in a blinding nowstorm on a flight from Peterson Field, Colorado Springs to Reno.

Eisenhower Arrives In Honolulu For More Conferences

By DON WHITEHEAD

ABOARD USS HELENA, En Route to Hawaii (AP)—Rested and relaxed, President-elect Dwight Eisenhower arrives in Honolulu today for more of the vital conferences that will shape America's policy in the Far East.

Eisenhower will remain until the weekend, then fly to his New York headquarters. Shortly thereafter he will meet with Gen. Douglas MacArthur to discuss the latter's plan for shortening the Korean War. That meeting probably will be held early next week, said a source close to the President-elect.

Wilson Reports

Eisenhower did not comment on President Truman's statement "if anyone has a reasonable plan for ending the Korean fighting x x x that plan should be presented at once to the President." He did not name MacArthur, but his press secretary, Roger Tubby, said there was no question that the general was meant.

Last Friday MacArthur told the National Association of Manufacturers he had a new plan for solving the Korean puzzle.

In a message exchange, Eisenhower and MacArthur agreed to meet to discuss it.

On hand to meet Eisenhower at Pearl Harbor will be Defense Secretary-designate Charles E. Wilson, who will report on his military conferences in Honolulu with Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and Adm. Arthur W. Radford, Navy commander in the Pacific.

Date Not Settled

An earlier plan to have Wilson fly to the Helena by helicopter was canceled.

A source close to the President-elect said no time or place had been fixed for the meeting with MacArthur, but it probably would be at Eisenhower's Commodore Hotel headquarters or his Morningside Heights residence in New York.

The source added that Eisenhower would consult frequently with MacArthur, but there are no plans to give him a formal post in the new administration.

James Hagerty, the President-elect's press secretary, said it is uncertain when Eisenhower will leave Honolulu. Earlier it had been announced he would leave Saturday night, arriving in New York Sunday night.

Tests Of Water Pumps Made At Filtration Plant

The city's soon-to-be-completed water filtration plant on Sand Point took in bay water for the first time today in a trial run to test water pumping machinery.

Valves were opened this morning on the pipeline to the present water plant, diverting about 50,000 gallons of water into the deep well on the south side of the new $800,000 structure.

The trial is designed to test the well pumps which will send water into the settling tanks, and the wash water pumps which clean the filter beds, according to project Engineer William Cadigan.

Test Pump Efficiency

In the test of the deep well machinery, three electrical Fairbanks-Morse pumps forced the flow of water into the settling tanks from where it was run off into the bay on the north side of Sand Point. The run-through is not intended to test the settling basin, Cadigan said, but only the working efficiency of the deep well pumps.

The three wash water pumps tested moved the water through the pipes near the filter beds and not through the beds themselves. In actual operation the wash pumps will, when necessary, perform a reverse flushing of the beds. The test will only determine the ability of the machinery to pump water reversely through the beds. It was diverted today at a connection which directed it out of the building again and into the bay, Cadigan stated.

No Purification Tests Needed

More tests are slated for next week when the chemical feeders will be put into trial.

No actual purification tests will be made, according to the engineer, because once the utility is set in operation it is inadvisable to halt the filtration and purification process. The plant is expected to be ready for use about the first of the year.

Joseph H. Londo Dies, Funeral Rites Saturday

Joseph H. Londo, 75, of 1611 10th Ave. N., died at 8 p. m. last evening of a heart attack. He had been in poor health the past two years.

He was born in Bay Settlement, Wis., July 8, 1877, and lived in Jacksonport, Wis., before moving to Escanaba in 1901. He operated a blacksmith shop at 110 S. 11th St. 20 years and later was associated with his sons in the Golden Spurs Riding Academies in Chicago and Eagle River, Wis.

His wife died in 1939.

Surviving are three sons, Leslie of El Centro, Calif., Cecil of Detroit and Leo of Escanaba; one daughter, Mary, of Newberry; three grandchildren and one great grandchild; two brothers, Sam of St. Petersburg, Fla., and Edward of Racine, Wis.; and one sister, Mrs. E. F. Weismiller of St. Petersburg.

Funeral services will be held at 9 a. m. Saturday at St. Patrick's Church with the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Martin B. Melican officiating. Burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery. Friends may call at the Degnan Funeral Home beginning at 1 p. m. Friday.

Judge William J. Miller To Observe 75th Anniversary

William J. Miller, Judge of Probate and one of Delta county's outstanding citizens, will celebrate his 75th birthday anniversary Friday, Dec. 12. Judge Miller has been a resident of Delta county 66 years, and is known and respected throughout the community.

He was born in Minto, Ontario, Canada, in 1877, and came to the states three years later with his parents. His father, John Miller, worked on construction for the DSS&A railroad at AuTrain, and they later moved to Marquette and Baraga. In the fall of 1886 his family moved to Masonville, where his father worked first for Robert Peacock and then at the Mason sawmill. His folks later built a boarding house at Masonville, which they operated until 1905.

Young Bill attended the Rapid River High School, and graduated in 1896. Being an ambitious lad, he immediately took a teacher's examination and passing, he began teaching that fall at Boney Falls on the Escanaba River. The following term he taught at the Days River settlement, and then attended Ferris Institute through the summer of 1898. The winter of 1898-99 he taught school on the Stonington Peninsula, and in the fall of 1899 went to Kipling, where he taught four years, three summers of which he attended Ferris Institute.

He entered the University of Michigan in the fall of 1903, and received his degree as Bachelor of Law in June of 1906. While at the U. of M. he was a member of the Yost Point-A-Minute football team (right guard), the Men's Glee Club and the Michigan Choral Union.

Law Office In Rapid River

Immediately after graduation, he returned to Rapid River and opened a law office in the upstairs of the building which in now Cole's Grocery. He also handled a real estate and insurance business at the same time.

In June of 1910 he married Elizabeth Hruska, and they have had five children. They are Mrs. Clarence (Elizabeth) Short, Washington, D. C.; John, Rapid River; Robert, who was killed in the Pacific during World War II; Mrs. Walter Olson, Gladstone; and William Jr., Escanaba.

The judge went back teaching school largely by accident, and stayed 20 years. He was asked to substitute for one of the teachers at the Rapid River High School, who was ill in the fall of 1912. The illness became extended, and he stayed on until the end of the year, at the same time keeping up his law practice. He was made principal of the school in 1915, and served continuously in this position until November of 1932, when he was elected prosecuting attorney of Delta county. In the meantime, he had been elected township supervisor in 1922, and acted in this capacity also until 1932.

His term as procecuting attorney lasted eight years, until 1940, when he returned to private practice, opening a law office in Escanaba. He was appointed Judge of Probate to fill a vacancy when Judge

JUDGE MILLER

Mileski died Jan. 3, 1942. This office he has held continuously since that time.

Held Many Offices

"Bill," as he is known to old friends and new, has filled a great many important offices during these years as a public servant. He has been president of the Michigan Prosecuting Attorneys Association, Delta County Bar Association, several U. of M. clubs in the Upper Peninsula and the Delta County U. of M. Club, and he has been twice a delegate to Democratic national conventions—Philadelphia, 1936, and Chicago, 1940. He was appointed one of the members of the board of control of Ferris Institute in 1951, and served as a member of the board of education of Masonville Township from 1933 to 1948. At present he is a member of the Rapid River Lions Club and the Escanaba Kiwanis Club.

Despite the fact that Judge Miller is celebrating his 75th anniversary, he still pursues many of his favorite hobbies, along with his work, and intends to continue for many years to come.

In the old days, he says, he had many and varied hobbies. An active athlete, he played baseball and football, did a great deal of wrestling and swimming, and often worked at woodworking and cabinet making. Old time dancing also was one of his favorite recrelations, along with amateur theatricals, singing, and public speaking.

Today he still does a great deal of public speaking, singing, lay preaching and on the quiet side, he likes to putter with flowers and reads extensively.

A new method of desalting sea water is expected to produce fresh water from sea water at a cost as low as six cents per 1000 gallons. It is expected to produce good water from brackish water at even a lower cost.

Education Meet Underway Here

Upper Michigan directors of adult education and school superintendents began gathering here today for a two-day conference on adult education.

A total of 28 persons registered for the sessions here in the House of Ludington. The first began at 2 p. m., today.

Motorists Ticketed—Escanaba police have issued tickets to motorists for the following traffic violations: Ronald R. Wigand, Wells, speeding; Leland K. Morrison, 1301 First Ave. N., speeding; Lawrence Beauchamp, 1224 11th Ave. S., disobeying stop sign and no license plate; Robert Cestman, 1127 Washington Ave., speeding.

Crooner In College

PULLMAN, Wash. (AP) — Crooner Bing Crosby has joined his twin sons in animal husbandry courses at Washington State College.

He was on the registration rolls today for the annual WSC short course for stockmen. His 18-year-old sons, Dennis and Philip, are in the department working for a degree.

Alexander Melville Bell — the inventor's father — was a noted master of elocution in England and Scotland.

Bark River Girl Wins Honors In National Vegetable Contest

NEW YORK (AP)—The girls outshone the boys among Michigan entries in the National Junior Vegetable Growers' Association's annual contest.

Of the seven from that state who won honors, five are girls.

Marguerite Louise Harris, 16, of Mattawan, and Maurice L. Olson, 18, of South Haven, were declared sectional champions.

The others honored were Jack A. Young, Sault Ste. Marie; Gloria Laginess, Belleville; Marlene Piontek, Bark River; Shirley Mckenry, Ionia, and Janet M. Frederick, Mason.

Efficiency in production and marketing of high quality vegetables provides the basis for judging.

Stray Dog Attacks 3 School Children

Three Escanaba children, students at the Franklin school, were bitten by a stray dog shortly before noon yesterday, police reported today.

The dog was confined in a local animal hospital for observation for rabies. It had no license and the owner has not been determined.

Bitten by the dog were Sally Siko, 10, of 209½ North Ninth St., Michael Summers, 12, of 233 North 20th St., and James McGovern, 12, of 309 South 11th St.

Public Works Program Enters Winter Season

Satisfactory progress on the city's continuing program of public works was made during the past summer season and work is under way now on projects which will be pushed as fast as winter weather will permit, Escanaba City Engineer Loren Jenkins reported today.

Improvements of streets, extension of water mains, and construction of additional sanitary sewers were included in the program on which the city expended an estimated total of $83,934.

Between 15 and 20 men have been employed on the program during the past year.

Extend Water Main

One of the major improvements of the past year is the installation of a 10-inch water main to serve the North Escanaba area, which is rapidly expanding industrially.

This past season about 1,500 feet of 10-inch main was completed in North 20th Street from Seventh Ave. N. to 11th Ave. N., financed by funds in the city's water treatment plant and main extension bond issue. When completed the 10-inch main will connect into the system at the elevated water storage tank.

At the present time the North Escanaba area is served by three six-inch mains.

In addition to the 10-inch main, the city installed a 350-foot water main extension on Ludington from 26th Street west; installed 1,300 feet of six-inch main in the Goulais Addition; and 900 feet of six-inch main in the Sylvan Point area.

Street Paving Program

This summer the city paved seven and one-half blocks with blacktop surfacing and prepared 12 more blocks for surfacing to be applied next summer.

In the preparation for surfacing the city builds concrete curbs and surfaces the street with gravel. This gravel surfacing is then followed with blacktop paving the following year.

Paving this summer included five and one-half blocks on 12th Ave. N. from Sheridan Road to US-2; and two blocks in the Goulais Addition.

The city has petitions from property owners, who share in the cost on an assessment basis, for 24 more blocks of paving.

Four blocks of alley paving also was completed this year by the city: Between 11th and 12th Street north and south of Ludington; between 13th and 14th Street north of Ludington; and between Fifth and Sixth Street south of Ludington.

Other work completed this past summer includes 1,030 feet of 8-inch sanitary sewer on Lake Shore Drive from 16th Ave. S. to the Athletic Field; and 300 feet of 15-inch storm sewer on Fifth Ave. S. from 22nd to 23rd Street.

Begin Storm Sewer

The city is now starting a 30-inch storm sewer project on 17th Street S., to extend down Eighth Ave. to 18th Street, thence up 18th to Royce Park. Work on this storm sewer and on improvements to the Danforth Road will be continued during the winter as weather permits.

This past summer the city dug a drainage ditch in the Syvan Point-city airport area to end the drainage problem there.

In addition to the above work, the city constructed curbs for a driveway to the Ludington Park beach house.

For street improvements a total of $59,934 was expended, approximately $20,000 was spent for water main extensions, and approximately $4,000 for sanitary sewers.

Nationality Film Series Is Slated

An Upper Michigan Nationalities Film Series will be presented in Escanaba beginning Jan. 20, Charles L. Follo, University of Michigan extension director, said today.

The series begins with a film on Scandinavia, showing material on Norway, Sweden, Finland and Lapland. The second film will be shown Feb. 3 and will present material on French Canada.

Other showings in February and March will offer information on England, Ireland and Scotland, the Balkan and Slavic nations, and France and Belgium. The last of the six films will be shown March 31.

Don Ickes, audio-visual director for the Escanaba school system, will coordinate the film presentations. All of the movies will be educational sound films. Some of them are in color.

Arrangements for presentation of the nationality films are being made by the U. P. office of the University extension service.

School Hearing Aid Purchased By Kiwanis Club

After hearing a demonstration of improved new electronic equipment used in the teaching of oral-deaf pupils, officers of the Escanaba Kiwanis Club voted to purchase a new group hearing aid for use in the Escanaba school system.

The new device, known as a Warren group hearing aid, replaces one originally purchased by the Kiwanis Club several years ago, and will be in use in the oral-deaf room at the Franklin school building. Some improvements were added to the old set in recent years, but the new equipment has features so far in advance that it was immediately decided to discard the former set completely for classroom use.

The new group hearing aid has six headsets, enabling six pupils to take part at one time. There are microphones for both the children and the teacher, so that the students can hear themselves as well as they can Leon Smelser, the oral-deaf room instructor.

Adult Education Classes Closed For Holidays

All adult education classes except those in the technical school are closed until after Christmas. Technical school classes have their last pre-holiday session next Wednesday. All of the classes will be resumed the week of Jan. 5. Director Vernon Ihlenfeldt states.

Teamsters Union President Gives Hand In Friendship To Employers

THE statement of policy by the general president of the International Teamsters Union Dave Beck, is one of good will and good reason which should create an atmosphere for good labor-management relationship in the industries in which the International Teamsters have local unions.

Here are some excerpts from President Beck's statement of policy:

"We are interested in maintaining good relations with our employers with whom we have contracts and with the business community generally. In this connection we expect to convey to it and to the public generally the story of the tremendous wealth of purchasing power which organized labor possesses."

"We hope to advance our objectives without strike action. The strike as an economic weapon should be our last resort. I believe that the relationship of labor and management is such that in our maturity of understanding and viewpoint practically every difference of opinion can be settled without a strike."

"We will exert effort to keep jurisdictional disputes to a minimum. We will make an immediate study of all jurisdictional disputes in which any Teamster local may be involved and if possible develop a settlement at the earliest opportunity. We must recognize the necessity of give-and-take in this field and the usefulness of honest compromise."

"As part of the general belief we hold in the competitive system, we hope to exert some influence on the economic rather than the political front. We will, of course, keep an eye on legislative action at both the state and federal levels and will be prepared to advise the membership on its rights and duties under these programs. We will not enter into active political affairs unless it is necessary to protect our people in their contract, bargaining and employment rights."

"We will advocate continuously that our local unions develop the best possible relations with civic affairs and movements in their communities. This will mean working with the Red Cross, Blood Programs, Community Chests and various other humanitarian drives."

These words are taken verbatim from the president's statement of policy and they are encouraging words to all people troubled by labor-management disputes, antagonisms and discords. They indicate a desire by the president of the Teamsters Union to create an atmosphere between the union members and their employers of tolerance, forebearance and understanding.

As further evidence of this viewpoint, the back cover of the current issue of the Teamsters magazine carries these words by Elbert Hubbard:

"If you work for a man, in heaven's name work for him. If he pays wages that supply you with your bread and butter, work for him, speak well of him, think well of him and stand by him and the institution he represents.

"So long as you are a part of an institution, do not condemn it. When you disparage the concern which you are a part of, you disparage yourself."

The Teamsters magazine conveys an entirely different attitude of unionism than is portrayed in many union publications. Too many of the latter magazines portray the employer as an enemy, a person to be distrusted. It is no wonder that bad labor-management conditions exist in such an atmosphere of suspicion, antagonism and sometimes outright hatred.

Allies Taken In By Truce Talks

WESTERN military experts are pretty well agreed now that the Allies were taken in when they accepted the Communists' bid for truce talks in Korea back in 1951. The evidence suggests overwhelmingly that the Reds had no real thought of a truce pact, but used the talks as a screen for a tremendous buildup of manpower and materiel in North Korea.

What is not so generally realized, however, is that the Reds are getting direct military advantage out of the very sites of the truce talks, especially Kaesong, the original one.

The Kaesong area, according to reliable accounts from correspondents in the vicinity, is serving as a center for several command posts. It also is being used for a number of large supply dumps. Lying within the established neutral zone, these headquarters and these dumps enjoy 100 per cent protection from UN attack.

Worse than this, the Reds have in recent times been parking artillery pieces near the borders of the Kaesong zone, knowing they are safe there from return fire, since answering bombardment might go astray and land in neutral territory.

Some analysts point out that the Kaesong hub could actually be employed as a staging area for a new Red attack some day on the approaches to Seoul. It lies athwart the natural route to the South Korean capital.

The UN forces, for their part, get no comparable advantage from the neutrality of their truce talk base, Munsan. They are attempting no key buildup there, and in any event Allied installations have not during the entire war been subject to Red aerial bombardment. Red artillery is not close enough, apparently, to do damage there if the chance presented itself.

The truce talks at Kaesong and Panmunjom are ended, and they are unlikely to be resumed. Since the preservation of the neutral zone now serves no purpose except to further Communist war aims, it ought to be abolished and UN guns and planes ought to go after Red emplacements and GHQ's immediately.

Questions and Answers

Q—Are all barberry plants susceptible to the rust which damages wheat?

A—No—only the common barberry that grows wild in the eastern United States. The Japanese barberry is not attacked by rust. Therefore it can be planted freely without endangering grain crops.

* * *

Q—Why is Connecticut called the Nutmeg State?

A—The Yankee peddler in early days who carried the products of Connecticut industry into distant towns and settlements was so sharp-witted that he was accused, faisely or not, of selling wooden nutmegs. The popular name of the Nutmeg State came from this legend.

* * *

Q—Is it a fact that it was once illegal to sell coal in this country?

A—Coal was once believed to be useless and in some places the sale of anthracite was declared a fraud punishable by law.

* * *

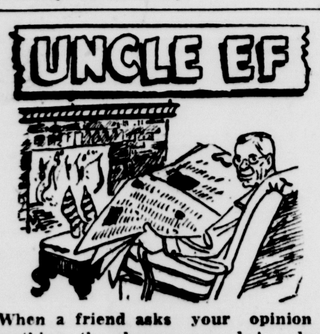

Q—Is tuberculosis still a major disease in the United States?

A—Tuberculosis kills more persons than all other infectious diseases combined.

* * *

Q—How long is the tongue of a chameleon?

A—The chameleon has an insect-catching tongue twice as long as its body.

When a friend asks your opinion on something, the chances are he's already made up his mind or he wouldn't ask.

The Doctor Says...

No Evidence That Treatment Of Bust Can Increase Fatty Tissue

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

Great numbers of letters have been received by this column from unhappy women who desire some information on any methods which could be used to increase the size of the bust. A typical one follows.

Q—My bust is no larger today at the age of 31 and with five children than it was when I was 13 or 14 years old. Can anything be done to develop the breast to more womanly proportions? Mrs. B.

A—The plumpness and consequently the size of the breast lies in the fat contained therein. Just why some should contain more fat than others is not clear, though heredity may play a part.

There is apparently no scientific evidence that any cream or external application, nor that any device for irritating or massaging the breast will cause any increased amount of fat to be deposited. At least one "bust developer" was the subject of a post office fraud order issued several years ago.

* * *

Q—My mother, who is 82 and apparently in good health, suffers from burning feet. Can you suggest any possible cause? M. E. S.

A—In the absence of any signs of local inflammation or disease, one would suspect—in a case of this sort—sensitivity of the skin, either to nylon stockings or some chemical substance present in her shoes. This is not a diagnosis, but a suggestion.

* * *

Q—Since early adolescence I have been troubled with an oily skin. I am now 21 but my skin is still the same and I wonder what can be done for this? G. T.

A—It is possible that astringent lotions or some similar local treatment to the skin might be of help. At any rate, a skin specialist could inform you what could be done in this way. It is also possible that cold baths, exposure to sunlight, or exercise would be helpful.

* * *

Q—I recently discovered that I had a hernia of the diaphragm, but have been advised against operation because of my age, which is 64. What do you think? Mrs. H. B.

A—If the symptoms are not too severe or too frequent your doctor's advice should certainly be followed, although a large number of people have been successfully operated for diaphragmatic hernia who are even older.

* *

Q—What could cause my 17-year-old son to have diarrhea several times a week? Mrs. W. O.

A—It could be some form of dysentry such as amoebic dysentry. It could be some dietary indiscretion; it could be that he has spastic colon and no doubt there are other possibilities. A symptom of this sort, however, should not be ignored and an effort should be made, if it is long-continued, to find out what the cause really is.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Inside reason why General Eisenhower sent his apologies to the U. S. troops which were kept standing for inspection in the Korean cold was because an overzealous brass hat had ordered the men to wear dress uniforms, not winter uniforms.

Dress uniforms have no ear flaps and, as a result of waiting two hours and fifteen minutes in bitter cold, a lot of ears and noses were frozen.

Naturally when the troops saw their visitors in undress uniforms with ear flaps, while they wore dress uniforms, there was resentment.

Eisenhower hit the ceiling when he heard what had happened, sent his apologies for keeping the troops waiting.

IN KOREA WITH IKE

Modest Uncle Omar—when Charles E. Wilson was up at the front with ROK trpops, he saw them shooting tracer bullets into the side of a hill. "What are those little red balls?" Asked the new Secretary of Defense, who apparently has a lot to learn about defense but is learning the hard way . . . . meeting his son, Maj. John Eisenhower, in Korea, Ike told him he celebrated his election as President by buying Mrs. John a new fur coat . . . . in Seoul, Ike slept in General Van Fleet's own bedroom, while Van Fleet slept on a cot in the laundry. Gen. Omar Bradley slept in the guest room which is on the street side. The Secret Service didn't consider it safe for Ike to sleep in a room on the street, but didn't seem to mind what happened to Uncle Omar . . . . Uncle Omar, incidentally, got pushed around more than any other VIP in the party—chiefly as a result of his own modesty, partly because some officers in Korea didn't recognize him. The unassuming man from Moberly, Mo., usually found himself looking over the shoulders of photographers . . . . Herb Brownell, the new Attorney General, left his clothes in Seoul because of the hurried getaway.

Ike's Security—it was Jim Rowley, head of Ike's secret service squad, who vetoed the proposed parade through Seoul . . . despite the fact that President Rhee had arrested 20,000 people as security risks, Rowley learned that the Communists had smuggled about 200 agents into the capital. So he decreed: "no parade." . . . . on the last day of Ike's visit, Dr. Syngman Rhee was frantic because Gen. Eisenhower had not returned Rhee's call. The President of Korea had called on Ike, but Ike had not called on him or posed for a photo with him. So Rhee kept sending the head of the Korean army to see Eisenhower, urging that he call on the Korean President. Finally Ike did so, and, on his last day, their pictures were published sitting together . . . . though Rhee is strong with the Korean people he is not so strong with the politicians. For Ike to have left without posing for a picture would have meant loss of face for the President of Korea.

TAFT AND IKE

You can write it down that Bob Taft has decided to control his outbursts against Ike and will try to coperate in the future.

Inside reason why he originally got so riled was because he came to the conclusion that Herb Brownell was kidding him about conferring on the Secretary of Labor.

Brownell, who will be Attorney General and who is now handling patronage, had been talking with Taft by phone about the two final cabinet appointments—labor and commerce. But when they were finally announced, Taft became convinced that they had been secretly selected a week beforehand and that the consultation with him was just kidding him along to keep him happy.

Taft's friends are also convinced that the Dewey forces around Eisenhower are deliberately trying to goad him into a fight with Ike in order to crowd Taft out of the Senate leadership. If Taft is Senate leader he is automatically invited to the White House every Monday for strategy conferences. If he isn't Senate leader he isn't invited. And some Dewey leaders think a lot of friction might thus be avoided.

Much of this came to Taft as an afterthought and is why he is dropping his Ike-feud. He knows he can't possibly win a battle with the President-elect at this time, and he isn't going to be goaded by the Deweyites into a fight.

Taft, therefore, will lay low, cooperate as far as conscience permits, try to dominate Senate legislation, and plant as many of his own men as possible inside the Eisenhower administration. This, he knows, can't be done by political warfare with Eisenhower.

Campaign Aftermath:

Lights Bright In Ike's Camp; Adlai's Workers 'Winding Up'

By RICHARD KLEINER

NEW YORK — (NEA) — It is easy to tell which is the Republican and which the Democratic campaign headquarters in New York these days. You don't even need a scorecard.

The Democratic headquarters—what's left of it—is thick with gloom. The only thing thick around the Republican offices is the red carpet. At the Democrats, the only thing on the floor is floor.

There's even a difference in finding the two parties. The Democrats are located in a midtown office - hotel, but the directory board on the main floor doesn't list them. The doorman thinks they've all gone. But, in the building office, the clerk looks through a file and triumphantly announces they're still in the building in Room 701.

* * *

Room 701 turns out to be a tiny two - office suite — close by the "Exit" sign. On the door is a sheet of paper, taped up with adhesive, with the penciled message that the "Volunteers for Sevenson" are located herein.

One of the rooms is a storeroom, with a disarray of boxes of stationery and odds and ends. The other is the main office. Four girls and a man are working at desks, pouring over ledger sheets and assorted bills.

"We're just doing routine things," said the man. "The things that have to be done to wind everything up."

"Paying bills and such," said a girl.

"The sort of routine you have to do at the end of a campaign," said another girl.

"Just routine, that's all," said the man, grumpily.

There wasn't even one Stevenson button to be seen.

* * *

At the Republican offices, the bell-hop knows immediately that the office is on the sixth floor.

There is handsome furniture and pretty girls at reception desks to direct you. There is much activity, important - looking men milling about the hall. There is a large, imposing-looking individual in a brown suit and black pipe smilingly eager to show you around and tell you everything.

"This was just a temporary office," he says. "But the American people changed that. Now we're temporarily permanent. We'll be here until the General goes to Washington, somewhere around Inauguration Day."

The job of the office, he explains, is to take over much of the executive chores. The office's function are those that will be done by the White House staff when Eisenhower moves in. Many of these people, in fact, will probably be retained as White House personnel.

* * *

It is here that much of the President-elect's mail comes—35,000 letters came during one three-day stretch. It is here that streams of visitors come calling. Some are job-seekers, some "cranks" with pressing suggestions on future policy, some "motherly ladies who come all the way up from places like Virginia just to shake Eisenhower's hand."

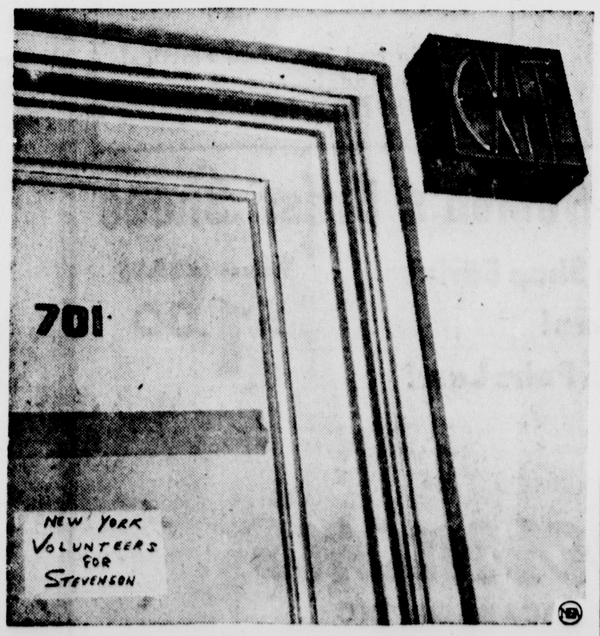

There are the same routine chores that occupy the last of the Democrats, too. Bills must be paid. Reports on campaign expenditures must be compiled. All loose ends must be tied neatly before the campaign dissolves into the administration.

The faithful workers must be rewarded with tickets to the Inauguration, and some Republican staffers are busily assembling that list. Schools want pictures of the President-elect, and these are sent. But individual requests are turned down.

"We keep busy," said the man with the pipe. He had a big smile.

STREAMS OF VISITORS throng Eisenhower campaign headquarters in New York, still going strong after victory. Here Sen. Frank Carlson of Kansas meets the press as he makes a visit.

ENTRANCE TO WINDUP of Stevenson headquarters in New York is this door with a penciled sign — flanked by a lighted "Exit" marker. Inside, workers are winding up "routine things."

Good Evening...

COUNTY SUPPORT—Delta county has one of the most active County Historical Societies in Michigan. It has not asked for nor received funds from the county. Should such a request be made, here are some supporting arguments, presented by Vernon L. Beal of the Michigan Historical Commission, in the November issue of the Michigan Courthouse Review.

"What sort of a local historical project should be supported by county funds?" Beal asks. "A previous note in Courthouse Review has shown that such support could be given legally, and it was pointed out that if the program had merit there was ample justification for the expenditure.

"Now we turn to a discussion of actual and possible benefits of local historical projects so that county officers may know what to ask of the local historical organization when it requests aid."

* * *

COMMUNIITY NEED—"Is the program designed to serve the community needs?" Beal questions, and answers by saying that "if it is, it certainly should be supported."

He cites counties where historical societies sponsor and maintain museums, where research and programming is integrated with the schools, including tours to points of historic interest.

"All such activity helps to bring home the fact that students are members of a community with a prideful background," Beal asserts.

A worthwhile community service is to encourage the community to "know itself"—its background, its culture, its story of achievement.

"However, if the community does not know itself there is nothing upon which to base a feeling of genuine resourcefulness," Beal believes.

* * *

TELLING THE STORY—"Long term advantages naturally follow a worthwhile local historical program," he continues.

"If a community celebrates a birthday, either of its own existence or the existence of one of its outstanding leaders, then the accomplishments and the contributions of those who went before us are summarized—highlighted—and made available for use as a foundation for positive faith in the practicability of the American way of life as a satisfactory ideal for the ordinary individual."

Aroused personal self-respect and citizen responsibility is "stronger than the mightiest war machinery in opposing any totalitarian philosophy."

* * *

RECORDS PRESERVED—Beal describes as "a direct service to county government" the establishing and maintaining of local archives where important records of the past can be preserved for the future.

"It is a true labor of love for those in local historical organizations to handle, and care for the precious historical papers which are so revealing of the community history."

And he points out that through the volunteer work of these local historians county officials will be spared tasks which he does not have time for.

Historical societies "will prepare exhibits and displays and show them to individuals, both young and old."

* * *

THE PEOPLE PROFIT—Beal notes that he has intentionally avoided describing the work of historical societies as "educational."

"Often times people are apt to associate the term 'education' with formal schooling. The emphasis here is upon the entire community.

"The history of a community includes everyone in it, and while the school system will profit most immediately from expanded historical activity, benefits are by no means limited to the classroom.

"Any program of community service, therefore, which uses the history of a locality to meet the needs of individuals, groups, or institutions, is worth the expenditure of tax dollars.

"Any local historical project working along these lines deserves maximum public support," Beal concludes.

Power With Words

By Dr. C. E. Funk

One who signs himself "an interested reader" has asked to draw the distinctions between personality and character. The assignment is not an easy one, because both qualities are intangible and one is often used when the other would be more fitting.

Perhaps if we go back to sources we may find the key to the distinction. Personality, of course, stems from person. As related some time ago in this column, person takes us to Latin persona, meaning a mask worn by an actor in a play. The nature of the mask, its color or markings, indicated to the audience whether the player was assuming the part of an old man or a young man, a strong man or a sick man, and so on.

Broadly speaking, therefore, personality is the outward show of a man. It is the effect that he gives of himself, that he creates of nimself upon others. This effect may or or it may not exhibit his true nature, but it is the impression of his nature that others receive. If it is a pleasing impression, he is said to have an agreeable personality. If the impression is disagreeable, he is said to have an unprepossessing personality.

Character, however, is the true nature of a man, the nature that is etched upon his soul. In fact, the term in Greek, from which we borrowed it, means an engraved mark. It is the inner fiber of a man; the quality that, in times of temptation or stress, stands out and exhibits him at his true worth. As the philosopher Ralph Waldo Emerson wrote, it "is the moral order seen through the medium of an individual nature."

Usually, though not always, the man of excellent character also has an agreeable personality. But the opposite cannot be taken for granted. The man of the most pleasing and winning personality may be a scamp.

Dolls In Mink Disturb Ruark

By ROBERT C. RUARK

NEW YORK—Well, I do not know what the poor kids are doing in regard to Santa Claus this Christmas, but if I am a rich little girl I will not hold still for no nonsense out of the old bum if he don't fetch me a doll baby like the one I seen advertised by one of the department store Yule booklets. What is good enough for mummy is good enough for baby, sezzi in my childish lisp.

The book says: "Ours alone, that you can outfit in everything from a simple skirt-an-blouse to fabulous furs. She's a whole 18 inches high, with curly hair brushing only makes curlier and more beautiful . . . in slip and panties she's ready to dress . . . for just $6.96."

Now here is where they slip in the sinister, which argues a fine moral sermon about the high upkeep of dolls over their original worth. I append the list:

Genuine mink three-quarter coat . . . $125.00. Shimmering satin evening gown . . . $4.98. Make-believe ermine cape . . . $2.89 . . . and enough party dresses and casual coats and such to rig out a debutante.

I have seen a lot of lofty doings in this town, from dogs in mink jackets and golden collars to bears entering the stork club unescorted, but this is the first time I ever hear of a doll rating a mink unless, of course, she is a live doll that you are looking to score with.

Trend Of The Times

There is some sense to hurling mink at a tomator who may smile kindly at you in return for this generosity, but in my time doll babies that just squawked, rolled their eyes and had changeable diapers were chic enough to gladden the average little girl when the stocking disgorged. Lord knows where we all are headed now if even the children's playthings must come bedizened in the fur that gladdens big girls' hearts.

I blame the trend on the times, where every stenographer feels undressed unless she has a mink as long and lush as the White House stenographers boasted — where mink has become so necessary to the female ego that the nasty little beast is used effectively as bribe bait. It is the let-'em-eat cake attitude translated into fou, and can only lead to bankruptcy if the girl child is conditioned to greed by the fact that Susie's dollie has a mink coat and Mary's dollie hasn't.

The kind of frippery embraces another tumbril-inviting piece of swank I recently noticed one of the stores hawking. It was a bejewelled fly swatter, crusted with ersatz gems on the edges and with the alluring embroidery of a dead fly in the center. I don't wish to seem like an old fuddy-duddy, but when we swatted flies some time back all we had in mind was killing the fly. We didn't want to start envious talk in the coffee houses.

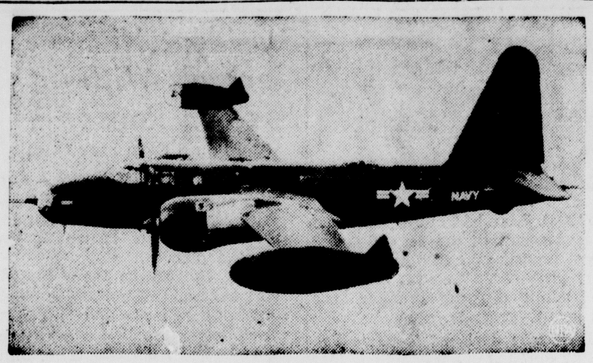

No Efficiency Here

I know we are all rich in America, and full of invention, but occasionally I am appalled at the lengths the merchandisers go to be ridiculous. We take the simple function and dress it up until it defeats itself, and someday turns with a snarl to rend us.

The other night I was listening to the famous designer, Raymond Loewy, tell a flock of people what the new-design people had in mind for the future, and it seemed to me that the aim of the gadget-of-the future people is to render the human race utterly inefficient.

There will be no need for arms, legs, eyes or brains. Babies will come from slot machines. Everything will be streamlined to the point where you can't sit on it, pick it up, or throw it at the cat. Man will never have to think again. They will just harness him to a machine at birth and cut on the motor.

The emphasis on refinement of gadgetry, of the garnishment of toys with snob-making fripperies, seems to me to be a direct play into the arms of psychiatry. They got a new one now, to work on: Mama didn't really belt Papa with the andiron because she hated Papa. She was emotionally disturbed because of no bejewelled fly swatter. Grows up to be an emotional irresponsible and when she finally stretches on the counch, the answer is immediate. Baby didn't have a dolly with a mink coat, like all the other kids, and it festered her psyche.

SUB KILLER—The Navy's latest answer to any possible submarine menace makes its first flight, above, from Burbank, Calif. The Lockheed P2V-6 is powered by turbo-compound engines for long range, high speed and short take-off. The plane is designed to lay mines, make night or low-level bombing runs, and high altitude bombing and photo reconnaissance missions.

Alger Picks Up 22 Votes Here

In a day and a half of tallying ballots in the governorship recount here, Republican contestant Fred M. Alger Jr. picked up 22 votes over Democrat incumbent Gov. G. Mennen Williams.

A gain of two votes by Williams in yesterday's tabulation was erased this morning after recount of Escanaba precincts No. 4, 5, and 8 showed a gain of 24 votes for Alger over the election night total.

It was precinct No. 5 which apparently allowed Alger to move ahead in this morning's tabulation. Williams lost a total of 49 votes there and Alger only one. Losses by both candidates in the other precincts brought the final reading to show 22 votes in favor of Alger.

The most significant development in the recount here is the disqualification of a large number of votes because of identification numbers on the ballots.

When the perforated corners of the state ballot were torn off in these cases, enough of the number remained to destroy the secrecy of the ballot, Attorney General's Deputy Harlan Yelland explained.

Any ballot which carries the voter's number, or distinguishing part of it, is disqualified and declared void by the recount official. The tearing-off of the corner holding the identification number must be complete so that the ballot cannot be recognized as the one cast by the particular voter, Yelland said.

About 60 ballots of one precinct were voided yesterday for improper tearing and a slightly smaller number from another city precinct were thrown out for the same reason this morning.

"It is unfortunate that voters are disenfranchised in this way," Yelland stated.

Recount officials placed the blame for the loss of voters' ballots on the clerks and on the faulty perforation made by the printer.

The clerks, they felt, should have taken greater care to make a full and proper severing of the corner from the ballot. It was also held by them that the printers had not made an adequate perforation line on the corner, which, if it had been done, could make for a sure and quick tearing-off of the corner.

Heart Attack Is Fatal To Fabian Miron, 72, Nahma

Fabian Miron, 72, a resident of Nahma since 1904, died at 8::15 p. m. Wednesday at the Delta Convalescent Home, following a heart attack.

He was born Nov. 10, 1880 at St. Martin's Canada. During his active life he was a section hand for the Nahma Northern, retiring in 1946. He was a member of St. Andrew's Church of Nahma.

Surviving are one daughter and two sons, Mrs. Harry (Leola) Sherwood of Rapid River and Romeo and Edward of Nahma; three grandchildren; one sister, Mrs. Eva Mero, and three brothers, Joseph, William and Zoelle, all of Manistique.

Ann Arbor Football Stars Attend Party For Lad In Iron Lung

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Little Dickie Brink, who has spent more than two of his ten years in an iron lung, gets his first Christmas present today.

It's a rousing send-off party before the boy polio victim leaves tomorrow to spend Christmas at home in Morenci.

And what makes it something special for Dickie is that more than a half dozen of his heroes—University of Michigan football players—accepted invitations to the party.

The party-goers include Ted Kress, Ted Topor, retiring captain Tim Green, Lowell Perry, Don Oldhom and Bill Billings. Also on the guest list were Michigan Athletic Director Fritz Crisler and head coach Bennie Oosterbaan.

Growing Dissent Handicaps Plans To Revive WSB

men to serve in the vacated industry posts on the WSB.

The wage board has been stymied in its work, with more than 12,000 applications pending for approval of wage increases, since Chairman Archibald Cox and industry members resigned last week in protest over Truman's handling of a coal pay increase. The WSB had ruled part of the increase was inflationary, but Truman okayed the full amount.

Steel Bans Lifted

The NAM's call for ending all controls was issued late yesterday by its new president, Charles R. Sligh Jr., who said:

"The resignations of the chairman and industry members of the (wage) board underscore the futility of any further continuation of the whole wage-price stabilization fiasco."

In giving the auto industry a greater quota for the second quarter of next year, McDonald expressed doubt that producers would get enough metal to build 1½ million cars. But NPA allowed them to do so if they can find the metal.

Beginning Jan. 1 construction of such recreational and amusement projects as bowling alleys, baseball parks, night clubs and theaters may go ahead on a restricted basis without government approval. For more than two years such construction has been banned unless the government gave a specific okay.

The NPA's new rules also provide that in the category of such projects as schools, hospitals, public utility plants, transportation facilities and hotels, builders may use 25 tons of steel and 2½ tons of copper. They have been limited to five tons of steel and a half-ton of copper. Also, after next May 1, they may use two tons of aluminum, instead of one ton as at present.

The amounts of steel, copper and aluminum which may be used in building homes and apartment buildings also were increased.

Handyman Convicted For Killing Woman, 69, By Port Huron Jury

PORT HURON (AP)—A 43-year-old handy man was convicted of manslaughter yesterday in the brutal stabbing death of Mrs. Solomon M. Foster.

A Circuit Court jury deliberated three hours before returning the verdict against Edward Fassnacht, who formerly did odd jobs around the Foster home near Marine City. The prosecution had asked a first degree murder verdict.

Mrs. Foster, 69, a prominent clubwoman and widow of a druggist, was found knifed to death last April 21 in her home. She had been stabbed 14 times.

British Royal Family Plans Homey Holiday

SANDRINGHAM, England (AP)—It will be a homey Christmas for 15 members of Britain's royal family at Sandringham House, the royal country place in Norfolk. Almost everyone will be there from Queen Mary, 85, to 2-year-old Princess Anne.

Plans for the day center on an informal luncheon. After it, the guests will listen to Queen Elizabeth II make her first Christmas broadcast as ruler to the nation and the Commonwealth. The party also will tune in on the world-wide radio linkup preceding her speech.

Then there will be a tea party for the children.

Mr. Gauthier died March 7, 1945.

Surviving are one son, Paul of Schaffer, and three daughters, Mrs. Fred Grondine, St. Petersburg, Fla., Mrs. Vachon of Norway, and Mrs. Patrick Carey of Modesto, Calif. Fifteen grandchildren and seven great grandchildren, and a sister, Mrs. Marie Longtine of Marquette also survive.

The body is at the Allo funeral home where friends may call beginning 2 p.m. Friday. The rosary will be recited there at 8 p. m. Friday.

Funeral services will be held at 9:30 a. m. Saturday in Sacred Heart Church, Schaffer, with the Rev. Joseph Beauchene officiating. Burial will be in Holy Cross cemetery, Escanaba.

Bad Security Risks Still Holding U. N. Jobs, Says Official

NEW YORK (AP)—A State Department official says 12 out of 40 Americans termed bad security risks by the department still are holding down their jobs in the United Nations.

The official, John D. Hickerson, assistant secretary of state for U. N. affairs, testified yesterday before the U. S. Senate internal security subcommittee probing allegedly subversive Americans working for the world organization.

Two more out of the 40—making a total of 14—were blackballed by the department "on a basis of morals," Hickerson said.

Second Group Fired

Hickerson's oral and written testimony—from notes inserted into the record—was heard by Sens. Herbert O'Conor (D-Md) and Homer Ferguson (R-Mich).

Of the 28 American U. N. employes dropped after his department questioned their loyalty, Hickerson said, 14 were fired before Oct. 1, and 14 more since then—as a result of the State Department reports or Senate and grand jury probes. Up to now, the U. N. has admitted firing 18 Americans on loyalty grounds.

Hickerson declined to name any of the 40 cases publicly, saying that the matter was "confidential" between the State Department and the U. N. The State Department is not responsible for U. N. personnel, he said, beyond checking their loyalty, and the actual firing was solely up to the U. N.

Spying Not Proved

Hickerson also told the subcommittee members:

"The State Department has not had evidence justifying the conclusion that espionage activities are being conducted by Americans employed in the U. N."

He added that he believed the Secretariat would be "one of the last places" where Soviet agents would be placed since that agency dealt in "generally public and unclassified data."

"There's more to it than getting information — there's acting as a Soviet agent."

Asked if other nations brought pressure on the U. N. in behalf of Americans listed as bad risks by the State Department, Hickerson said: "As far as I know, that is not the case."

Attempts to "follow up" adverse criticism by his department, Hickerson said, might be construed as "instructions" to U. N. officials and would be a violation of a section of the U. N. Charter.

President Hits Generals With His Old Rancor

meant him.

3. Watkins' proposal that Truman, Eisenhower and MacArthur meet in the White House to explore the plan.

Ike Breaks Ice

Watkins said Eisenhower had "broken the ice" and made friendly gesture to MacArthur, who had refrained from endorsing him for president.

Rep. Armstrong (R-Mo) also praised Eisenhower and MacArthur for agreeing to talk over ways to end the Korean War, but indicated he did not think a MacArthur conference with Truman now would do any good.

Armstrong said there was a time—before the President fired him from his Far East command—that "MacArthur would have told Truman how to end the war."

But, he added, "a lot of good" it would do for the general to "tell Truman anything now."

Watkins termed Truman's statement "pretty ungracious" but added:

"I hope the President will set aside rancor and in the interests of humanity and patriotism invite both Eisenhower and MacArthur to a meeting at the White House and explore with them what hope the MacArthur plan may hold. Both are men of wisdom and military genius.

"Timing well could be the essence of this secret plan, and it should not be deferred one unnecessary hour if it offers real hope. More than that, it should not be left to flounder until Eisenhower takes over as president on Jan. 20 if action by the outgoing and incoming administrations together could launch it earlier and save even one life."

Watkins said some such thought may even lie behind Truman's terse statement, which said, "if we can cut this fighting in Korea short by one day, we should do so."

Sen. Stennis (D-Miss), a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said in a separate interview he thought a meeting of the three "could be a good way to get at the facts — I'm sure things have not reached the point where they can't or won't consult together on problems of vital importance."

Sen. Dworshak (R-Idaho) said he doubted "any good could come" from a meeting between Truman and MacArthur.

Annual Barr School Carol Program Will Be Given On Friday

Students of the Barr School will present their annual Christmas carol singing program Friday, Dec. 12, at the school. "Christmas the World Around" is the title of their program.

All students are participating in the program, which is under direction of Miss Norma Latola, grade school music supervisor. Barr teachers are assisting her.

The program will be given at 10 a. m., for parents of morning kindergarten students and first, second and third graders. The afternoon program, which begins at 2:30 o'clock, is for parents of afternoon kindergarten students and fourth, fifth and sixth graders.

Former Revenue Chief Pleads Innocent To Tax Evasion Charge

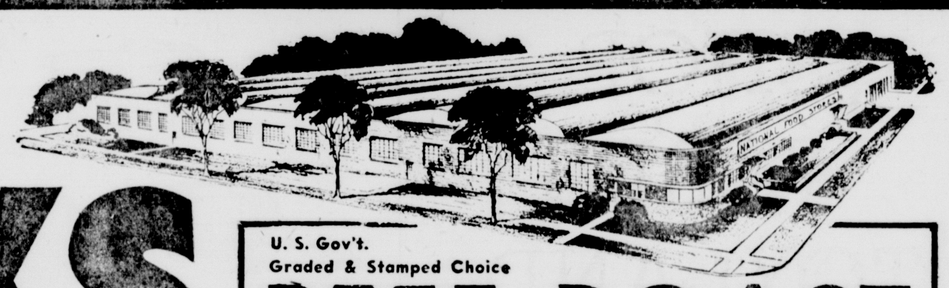

NEW YORK (AP)—Joseph D. Nunan Jr., 54, former U. S. Commissioner of Internal Revenue, pleaded innocent today to an indictment charging he evaded $91,086 in income taxes from 1946 through 1950.

Judge Mortimer Byers in Brooklyn Federal Court set the trial for Jan. 5 but said a postponement could be asked then if Nunan needs additional time. Meantime, Nunan is free in $1,500 bail.

Nunan resigned as head of the Internal Revenue Bureau in 1947 and resumed private law practice.

Mining Journal Suit In Court

MARQUETTE, Mich. (AP) — A motion to dismiss the suit brought by Frank J. Russell Jr., against Leo G. Brott has been rejected, but the defendants request that the bill of particulars be made more specific was granted in Marquette County Circuit Court today.

Judge Glenn W. Jackson gave Russell, former president of the Mining Journal Co., Ltd. 15 days in which to file an amended complaint.

The suit filed by Russell and others asks Brott's removal as trustee in trusts established by Russell and his father, the late Frank J. Russell of Iron Mountain. It grew out of the removal of Russell Jr., as president of the Mining Journal Co.

At the annual meeting of the company's stockholders last June, Walter G. Hornstein of Garden was elected president, Russell vice president and Brott secretary-treasurer.

Officers In British Army Selected For Accent, Says Laborite

LONDON (AP)—A Laborite member of Parliament says that British Army officers are selected for their accents and not for their competence.

The charge was made in the House of Commons yesterday by George Wigg, a onetime regular Army private who rose to the rank of colonel. He quoted an Army statement to the effect that 80 per cent of draftees granted commissions live south of a line drawn across the country through the Midlands industrial center of Birmingham.

British accents vary according to geographical locations. Wigg, himself, is from Dudley—a mile or two north of the Birmingham line.

War Minister Anthony Head agreed that most of the commissions were granted men from south of the Birmingham line. This is "a fact that has been known for years," he declared but gave no explanation.

Spaghetti, a wheat product, is not made from flour, as is bread, but from a medium-coarse grind of wheat called semolina, which can be ground from such high gluten-content wheat as the durum of the North Central States.

Although Western clothes have been adopted since World War II by many lands, the islanders of Yap in the Western Pacific continue to wear loincloths and grass skirts as did their ancestors, says the National Geographic Society.

Presidential Yacht Not Likely To Be Used By Eisenhower

By DON WHITEHEAD

ABOARD USS HELENA, En Route to Hawaii (AP)—It looks as if President-elect Dwight Eisenhower's passion for golf, freshwater fishing and frugality in government will leave no place for the ocean-going yacht, the Williamsburg, as a presidential retreat in the next four years.

The chances are, friends say, that Eisenhower will try to find a mountain retreat somewhere near Washington—one with a small golf course—as his hideaway from White House duties.

Nothing Fancy

And they say his plans rule out the Williamsburg not only as being too expensive a luxury but one not suited to his ideas of recreation.

The ideal summer White House in Ike's book would be a mountain retreat at about 2,500 feet altitude, not too far from Washington. Good fishing water would be a must and also the golf course.

It would have to be close to the White House because Ike might want to sneak away on Fridays and not return until Sunday night. Some say he has thought that maybe former President Herbert Hoover's old retreat at Rapidan, Va., might fill the bill—or some place similar. He doesn't want anything fancy.

Costs Plenty to Cruise

President Truman preferred Key West for his vacations and he liked to have the Williamsburg around for week-end cruises from time to time.

The Williamsburg has a crew of more than 100 and like all yachts it costs a lot to run. Nobody knows just how much, because in government bookkeeping it's a training ship for the Navy.

The yacht was sold to the government by Hugh Chishom, head of the Bath Iron Works, and was used in World War II as a convoy flag ship in the North Atlantic. It was converted as a White House yacht in 1946.

Factories Face Arms Cutbacks

DETROIT (AP)— Government orders for arms production cutbacks in Michigan auto plants are reported impending.

Tank and truck production was expected to be affected particularly.

Informed sources here and in Washington indicated that broad cutback plans are soon to be announced.

This will be in line with the government's developing stretch-out program in defense production.

The major effects are expected for about the middle of next year and from then onward, assuming the absence of a worsening of the international problem.

The stretch-out—that is, the extension of time for producing a given job—has been under way for some time. It will be expanded as conditions permit.

In coming months some arms plants may be closed because of a leveling off in production, according to advices from Washington.

Plans of this sort were disclosed officially last night at the Pentagon. Announcement of specific cutbacks was promised for an early date.

At the same time it was reported that restrictions on the use of steel for non-defense construction are on the way toward modification.

An order releasing steel for schools, public works, hospitals and recreational and amusement facilities is expected by Jan. 1.

The government has kept a tight rein on the use of all steel in non-defense building.

Shrinking Michigan Treasury Puts Bite On Liquor Purchases

LANSING (AP) —Auditor General John B. Martin Jr., proposed to milk the state's liquor monopoly again to secure funds for the failing state treasury.

Martin asked the state controller to transfer $9,000,000 from the liquor purchases revolving fund to the general fund and requested the State Liquor Control Commission to pull its inventory down from more than $19,000,000 to $15,000,000 as soon after the holiday buying rush as possible.

Martin said the liquor commission is holding far more money in its purchase revolving fund than it needs to, immobilizing large sums which could be used for the state's general fund.

He said the legal maximum of the revolving fund is $1,000,000.

Czechs Fear Purge Will Mean Return Of Sudeten Germans

(Editor's note: The writer of this dispatch was chief of the Associated Press bureau in Prague at the time the Communists took over the government there.)

By A. I. GOLDBERG

NEW YORK (AP) — Czechoslovaks are reported fearful that the Slansky-Clementis purge trials and hangings spell the quick Moscow-sponsored return of Sudeten Germans expelled by the late President Benes after World War II.

A Czechoslovak once close to the Benes government, after studying a letter from a professional man in Czechoslovakia, expressed belief the principal purpose of the trial was to clear out the chief opponents of German workers coming back into Czechoslovakia, a move long desired by Moscow.

Many Skilled Workmen

Another trial aim was to forge stronger ties with Germans by playing on whatever anti-Semitic feeling remains in Germany, this former official said.

Relatives in the U. S. received from a member of their family, still in Czechoslovakia, letter written after the trial sentences were announced. Identities of those involved must remain guarded.

The professional man is a Jew, one of those resettled from his former home into the Sudetenland along the border of Germany, after some three million Germans were expelled. Benes considered the Sudeten Germans a spearhead of provocation, blaming them for the inroads that Hitler was able to make in taking over Czechoslovakia before and after the Munich agreement in 1938.

The Sudeten people were skilled workmen, in glass and pottery, mines and industry. Many were engineers, technicians and factory administrators.

Their expulsion was a hard blow to Czechoslovak industry because it robbed the market of skilled workers and because the expelled Germans immediately set up competition in Germany with their skills. Some went to East Germany.

Homes Confiscated

Their homes and furniture were confiscated and turned over to Czechoslovaks—a great many were Slovaks from poor hill regions—brought from other parts of the country.

One idea was to have a convenient buffer group between the German border and Prague in case of any new German aggression.

Czech industry was working its way back to some sort of normalcy when the Communists took over in February, 1948, and announced even more grandiloquent four and five-year plans.

Late in 1948 Moscow began badgering the Czechoslovak government to bring back the Germans, especially from East Germany where unemployment and near-famine made the situation dangerous for the Communist offshoot of Moscow.

Kremlin Catches Up

The Kremlin also wanted the door opened to West Germans, hopeful Czechoslovak communism could provide a propaganda cement that would unify Germany along the lines Moscow has always wanted.

But the foreign minister, Vladimir Clementis, a Slovak, hated the Germans more than he loved Moscow. Rudolf Slansky, the Communist party boss, was a West Bohemian who had always lived in fear of Germany.

Together they fought the Moscow plan in the Cabinet and beat it early in 1949.

That was when Moscow began to catch up with Clementis, who had denounced the Stalin-Hitler pact of 1939 from his refuge in Paris.

The mystery was why it had taken so long to rub him out. One answer was that Slovaks had to be thoroughly policed against any uprising over one of their favorite sons.

The epilogue appeared ready to be written.

The latest letter from Czechoslovakia's Sudeten region put it this way: "We hear about the trials in Prague and we believe that our former guests are going to return. Some have already. That is the whole feeling here about the trials. My impression is that I shall have to leave here and go back to our former home in Bohemia."

Federal Payroll Cuts May Be Haunting GOP

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Republican-fathered device to trim the number of federal payrollers when most of them were Democrats may haunt the GOP when it takes over the reins of government next month.

It may have the effect of forestalling plans any Republicans might have to replace Democratic jobholders with Republicans after President-elect Eisenhower's inauguration.

Tacked To Money Bills

Known as the "Jensen rider," it has been tacked on to most departmental money bills in the last two years. By current law, it is operative in most departments at least until next June 30.

In effect it says the federal payroll shall be cut about 10 per cent each year by forbidding the filling of more than one out of every four vacancies that occur. There are some exceptions.

Its author, Rep. Ben Jensen (R-Ia), said he realizes the plan might pose some difficulties for the incoming Republican administration.

But Jensen said in an interview that if the plan was equitable and fair when Democrats were running the show, it ought to be equitable and fair for the Republicans.

"It isn't a political program at all," he said. "Most of the jobs affected are civil service jobs anyhow, so they aren't political in nature."

He conceded that under a Democratic administration Democrats applying for civil service jobs might fare better than Republicans, and vice versa.

"There have been and there still are just too many people on the federal payroll and we have got to start cutting down if we're ever going to have real economy," he said.

Burden Too Heavy

"You just don't cut down by wholesale firings of people with families and long tenure of good service. You do it through the process of attrition—by not filling vacancies when these people quit their jobs, which they do by the thousands every year. It's a very fair system and if I have my way it will remain in effect until we get this thing in hand."

Jensen estimated that around 300,000 federal jobs become vacant each year and, under provisions of his rider to appropriation bills, only about 75,000 of them may be filled.

The present payroll of approximately 2½ million employes is at least 10 per cent too heavy, he said, adding:

"And unless the agencies themselves and a Budget Bureau take steps to cut down on employment, the Congress will have to keep cutting it down through an amendment such as mine."

The George Washington Highway (U.S. Route 17) skirts the eastern edge of the Dismal Swamp of North Carolina and Virginia.

Today's Recipes

Cleopatra's Salad

Ingredients: 1/3 cup olive oil, 1 cut clove garlic, 1½ cup bread cubes, 1 cup ripe olives, 3 quarts romaine, 1/3 cup salad oil, salt, freshly-ground black pepper, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, ½ cup grated Parmesan cheese, 1 egg, 1 ½ lemons.

Method: Let garlic stand in olive oil at room temperature for 2 or 3 hours. Discard garlic. Toast bread cubes in slow (300F) oven until crisp and lightly browned; cool then toss with garlic oil. Cut olives from pits into large pieces. Break crisp romaine into bite-sized pieces in large salad bowl. Pour plain salad oil over greens, sprinkle generously with salt and pepper and toss until every leaf is coated. Sprinkle with Worcestershire sauce and cheese, add raw unbeaten egg. Toss until no trace of egg may be seen. Sprinkle lemon juice over all. Add olives and croutons; toss a few times. Serve at once. Makes 6 servings.

Going Steady Is Convenient But Has Major Drawback Too

By Elizabeth B. Hurlock, Ph.D.

Going steady is a modern trend in boy-girl relationships that is growing into an established pattern. Here is how one young teenage girl explains its hold on the younger generation:

(Q) "My parents object to my going steady even though I am a junior in high school. I have tried to explain to them that it doesn't mean anything serious but is just a convenience for the girl. Won't you write a column and tell parents not to get upset when their teenagers want to go steady?"

(A) Parents sometimes take going steady, especially among high school students, too seriously. On the other hand, it is a bad practice and the sooner the custom is broken up, the better it will be for young people.

Unquestionably it is more "convenient" for both boys and girls than the older methods of courtship in vogue when your parents were teenagers. The girl who goes steady is assured of an escort for any party she wants to attend and she can call on the boy she is going steady with for a party escort or for anything that comes up where she is asked to bring someone.

It gives a young girl a feeling of confidence about her social life that your mother's generation did not have. It is also convenient for a boy to know he has a girl he can count on for dates. It is less expensive too, for him, for his "steady" doesn't expect as much to be spent on a date as girls do when they date a boy occasionally.

But, as your parents feel, is it wise for a girl as young as you to limit herself to one boy? Wouldn't it be better to get to know a lot of different boys and see which one you really like? You can learn a lot about men just by dating different types.

Then there is the problem of early marriage which, I am sure, is bothering your parents. When a girl goes steady, she is likely to become serious about a boy sooner than if she goes with a number of different boys. Before she realizes it, she is drifting into marriage at an age when she is too young and too inexperienced for such responsibilities.

If you have a personal problem, write Elizabeth Hurlock in care of this newspaper.

Meat Hunters May Be Curbed

BIG RAPIDS (AP)—A state legislator best known for his anti-Communist pursuits says his next aim is to do something about the "meat hunters" who prey on Michigan's deer herd.

Rep. Kenneth Trucks (R-Baldwin) announced that he will introduce a series of bills at the Legislature's next session to stop what he called the "indiscriminate slaughter" of deer.

Trucks made it plain that he has no desire to challenge the Conservation Commission's newly-won powers to regulate the deer season.

But he said he was convinced that "much of the deer herd had been destroyed," especially in the special three-day "any deer" period in which bucks, does or fawns could be taken.

And he said this happened largely because many hunters, after getting one deer, continued hunting "on grandmother's license" under the guise of seeking bear. So he said his bills would:

1. Separate the bear and deer hunting seasons.

2. Get up the licenses in such a manner that when a seal is placed on a killed deer the license could not be used further.

3. Stop the sale of deer hunting licenses at 4 p. m. on the second day of the hunting season.

Trucks lives in heavily-hunted Lake County. He is the author of the Trucks Act, which requires Communists to register with the State Police.

Hermansville

HERMANSVILLE—Mr. and Mrs. Sven Anderson returned from Chicago Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Van Goethem and daughter of Norway visited Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Sword.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Massignon and children of Iron Mountain visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. John St. Juliana Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. Felix Cabianca. Mrs. John Tomasi, Mrs. Peter Polazzo and Mrs. Julius Benetti of Ann Arbor are expected home because of the illness of their father, Dominic Cabianca.

Redecorate Church

Work has begun on the painting of the sanctuary of the Methodist Church. The work is expected to be completed in time for the Christmas holidays.

Organize Cub Scouts

A meeting will be held Wednesday evening at the high school of all boys, ages 8 to 11, and their parents to draw up plans for a Cub Scout organization. John Gosling, of the high school faculty, is Scoutmaster.

Christmas Program

The annual Christmas party for the children of Meyer Township, sponsored by Leo Floriano Post 340 will be held at the Community Club Thursday, Dec. 18. This program is held through the cooperation of the Meyer Township schools and the merchants of the town. Santa Claus is expected to distribute 350 bags of candy to the children.

Shoplifters Jailed

DETROIT (AP)—In a pre-Christmas crackdown on shoplifting, 29 persons were sentenced here Monday for filching from supermarkets. The sentences ranged up to 50 days in jail.

More than 250,000 refugees have found sanctuary in Britain since the beginning of World War II.

Santa and the PIRATES

AP Newsfeatures

Lucrece Hudgins Beale

SYNOPSIS: Jonathan asks Santa for 20,000 pieces of gold. The dwarf Tweedleknees, listening at the keyhole, warns Santa it's a trick. To prove he is a Prince, Jonathan gives Tweedleknees his royal dagger still wrapped in the pirate's paper. It's a map of buried treasure. Santa's magic turns a toy into a real boat for Jonathan. But he warns it will turn back into a toy in 48 hours.

A freckle faced brownie named Tricket produced a can of red paint and painted 'Merry Christmas' on the prow of the ship.

CHAPTER VIII
THE VOYAGE

"Hurraht! Hurrah!" shouted the Santa Land folk. "We're going treasure hunting for the Prince!"

"Yo heave ho!" shouted a fat little elf named Horace. He had once read a book about the sea. Ever soince he had longed to be a sailor and sing "Yo heave ho!" all the day.

"What shall we call our ship?" Santa asked the Prince.

"Call her the "Merry Christmas," exclaimed Prince Jonathan. "For that is what it will be in Fairvania when I bring back the pirate gold."

A freckle faced brownies named Tricket produced a can of red paint and painted "Merry Christmas" on the prow of the ship. Then the little folk started to clamber aboard.

At this point there was a shriek from the distance. Patrick Tweedleknees hurtled towards the beach carrying two large sacks and scolding and muttering as he came. He marched straight to Santa and dropped the sacks at his feet.

"Just look at that!" he snorted, pointing to the bundles.

Santa twisted his hat nervously in his fingers. "Now, Patrick," he soothed the dwarf. "We are just going after pirate treasurre—"

"Pirate treasure when Christmas is almost here!" fumed Tweedleknees. He tore open the sacks at Santa's feet. "Look! Hundreds of Christmas letters I found stuck under your desk. Who is going to fill out these orders?"

Santa looked at the letters in dismay. He could not for the life of him remember why he had stuck these letters under his desk.

Tweedleknees reminded him. "They are from children who wanted rubber balls in their stockings. You said you would get to them later."

"Oh, yes," said Santa.

"Now," said Tweedleknees, "it's almost too late and there'll not be one rubber ball in the sleight on Christmas eve. How can you think of letting everyone go away on a pleasure cruise at this time?"

"You are right," said Santa. "We had better not go."

Suddenly Prince Jonathan said, "Could we not make rubber balls on the ship while we voyage to the island?"

Santa laughed with relief. "Of course we can!"

And before Tweedleknees could protest further Santa ordered the delighted workers to load the ship with all the material and equipment for making rubber balls. For good measure they loaded Tweedleknees, too, just to make sure the balls were made.

Then all the workers who could manage is squeezed onto the ship. Santa took the helm, the Prince weighed anchor, and the Merry Christmas set forth.

"Yo heave ho!" cried fat Horace. And all the elves, none of whom had ever been to sea before, chorused joyfully, "Yo heave ho!"

Tweedleknees strode the deck "Get to work!" he thundered. "Stir up a batch of rubber. I want 20 balls from each of you before the trip is over."

The little folk grumbled and stuck out their tongues but finally they settled down to work as Tweedleknees wished. First they filled an enormous bucket with powder and paint. They added tar and chewing gum. They threw in some banana peel and sugar. Then came a dash of rubber salts and a bottle of liquid bounce.

They cooked this mixture for several hours. When it cooled they took handfulls of the sticky stuff and pulled it back and forth like taffy candy until it was just right — not too soft and not too hard. Then they shaped it into balls and set them aside to dry.

They worked faithfully through the day and night. Santa workers never sleep before Christmas. Why should they? They sleep steadily for six months after Christmas..

At dawn Horace, all black and sticky with rubber taffy, cried, "Land! I see land!"

Santa and the Prince rushed to the rail. They looked where Horace pointed. There was an island straight ahead, calm and peaceful in the morning sun.

"That's it!" exclaimed the Prince joyfully. That's where the treasure lies!"

10% Of Policemen Flunk Physicals

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A physical checkup of policemen here recently disclosed that 14 per cent were physically incapable of performing satisfactory police duty, Safety Director James E. Thornberry reports.

Of the 438 policemen examined, 184 were overweight, 116 had unsatisfactory blood pressure, 87 had below-par vision, 25 were wholly or partially color blind and 79 had defective hearing.

Thornberry blamed low police pensions for the high percentage of unqualified officers. Of the 62 men termed unsatisfactory, 46 had already reached the age of 51, which is in the retirement bracket.

Men Need Girdles, Educator Declares

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Men, too, are going to be doing the Charleston getting into their girdles, says Dr. Burgess Gordon, president of the Women's Medical College, Philadelphia.

Men need girdles and will feel better and be better able to remain in the race with women in politics, industry and medicine, Dr. Gordon told interviewers yesterday.

Some of women's success is due to their girdles, he said, because they get support that elevates the abdomen and facilitates the movement of air in and out of the lungs, thus contributing, to the entrance of oxygen into the tissues.

Pupils Finance Trip For Teacher

BRUNSWICK, Ga. (AP)—A retired high school English teacher will visit the English homeland of her literary heroes because of the generosity of her pupils of a half century of teaching.

Miss Jane Macon, 70, received cash gifts totalling $2,400 from her former students following her compulsory retirement last June from Glynn Academy here. The purse resulted from letters sent to about 2,000 former students of "Lady Jane," as she was affectionately known. Replies came in from all sections of the globe.

Cub Scouts To Make Wreaths

Cub Pack 420 has adopted a Christmas wreath project in order to raise money for re-registration of the pack, it was announced yesterday.

Wreaths will be made and sold by the various dens in the pack.

Last Saturday members of Den No. 3 with Mrs. Dan Finland as leader went to the Ohman farm on the Stonington peninsula to gather boughs and ground pine for the wreaths and while there enjoyed a pancake supper.

In the group in addition to the leader were Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Ohman, Mrs. Tom Hite, and Cub Scouts Tommy Hite, David Ohman, Tommy Butch, Buzz DeHooghe and Tom Finlan.

Social

Study Club

The Study Club will have it's annual Christmas party on Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Einar C. Olson, 611 Michigan avenue. Luncheon will be served at 1:30. There will be an exchange of gifts.

The committee is composed of Mrs. E. C. Olson, Mrs. C. H. Hoffos, Mrs. W. L. Olson and Mrs. Charles Burton.

Bridge Club

Mrs. Hagle Quarnstrom was hostess to the members of her bridge club on Tuesday evening at her home, 1609 Wisconsin avenue. Mrs. Howard Sunblad held high honors and Mrs. Walter Boucher, second.

A delicious Christmas luncheon was served at a table prettily decorated in the holiday motif. Gifts were exchanged.

EGGSTRA-SPECIAL FRIEND — Rambunctious elephants in airplanes can be troublesome, and the keeper of this infant pachyderm was taking no chances on a flight from Bangkok to New York. He brought along his pet's favorite pal, "Elephant Girl," to keep it quiet. The elephant was one of three aboard, destined for zoos in Seattle, Miami and Washington, D. C.

Employ Howitzers To Shoot Avalanches

DENVER (AP)—Colorado's highway department plans to mount two cannons on 11,992-foot Loveland Pass west of Denver to shoot down avalanches. The project is part of a widespread experiment on the pass to control snow slides.

The department disclosed Tuesday it has borrowed a 75-millimeter howitzer and a 105-millimeter howitzer from the national guard to use in the project.

A similar attempt to cause an avalanche to "run" with a howitzer several years ago failed. However, the department plans to use more scientific data to determine when the shells should be fired into the slides.

LaCosse Team In Smear Loop Lead

Roy LaCosse's team is now out in front in the Holy Name smear tournament with a score of 598 to Don Zierke's 586. In third is Valencic, former leader, with 583. Andrew Vargo has 578 and August Boden, last year's champ, 575.

Other scores are Al Willette 570, Alphonse Creten 559, Lou LaComb 553, Harvey Gardner 544, Martin Cassells, 538, Barney DeHooghe 532, Albert Wilmotte 531, Frank Richel 514, Louis Frantz 497, Gordon Marshall 495, Vic stock 494, Clyde Alworden 480, Wilfred LeRoux 478, Jule Reubens 476, Rene Maskart 460, Maurice Lierman 446 and Fritz Esler 420.

Willette's team had 81 for evenings high while Alworden was low with 13.

A week ago when a score was turned in, the lowest score in the history of the tournament was made by Esler's quartet which had a minus 2 for the evening.

Farm Wildlife Needs Feed to Stay Alive

COLDWATER, O. (AP)—The farm equipment division of the Avco Manufacturing Co. has been asking its customers to "cut corners" because its farm machinery makes it tough for wildlife to exist.

A company mailing piece says that the modern corn picker, which scarcely misses an ear or kernel, leaves slim pickings for birds and animals. The company suggests that farmers cut diagonally across the back corner of each field when harvesting to leave a natural shelter and a little store of feed for wildlife.

U. S. Ready To Sue Russia For Plane Seized In 1951

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States may take to the International Court its complaint against Russia and Communist Hungary for the 1951 seizure of an American Air Force cargo plane.

The plane was forced down in Hungary by Soviet fighters on border patrol. After being held for six weeks the four Air Force crewmen were released, but only after the U. S. paid a fine of $123,605 imposed by the Hungarians on a charge of illegally crossing the frontier.

Valued At $98,779

The U. S. yesterday served a formal demand n Moscow or return of the plane and its cargo, or payment of its $98,779 estimated value, plus interest. Hungary was asked to turn over court records of the secret trial. Nothing was said about refunding the fine.

The demand appeared to be a futile gesture. Hungary has ignored such requests in the past, and the U. S. has never been able to get a satisfactory settlement of border incidents with Russia.

But the State Department said this government is "considering appropriate legal action" and the formal notes were deemed a necessary preliminary step.

Record Kept Carefully

If Russia and Hungary refuse to settle by negotiation, the next step presumably would be an appeal to the International Court at The Hague. Russia, however, has refused to be bound by decisions of this tribunal.

In any event, the State Department is building up a careful record, for reckoning in the United Nations or elsewhere, which would serve also to refute Communist propaganda.

Russia has contended the plane was forced down while trying to deliver supplies to anti-Communist guerrillas. The State Department says it was on a routine flight taking supplies from Germany to the U. S. Embassy at Belgrade, Yugoslavia, and that the plane lost its bearing.

Russia has kept armed forces in Hungary ever since World War II.

Community Tree Put Up On Delta

Gladstone's community Christmas tree was erected Wednesday morning at the intersection of Delta avenue and 9th street.

Willard LaFond, superintendent of the light utility, said that in keeping with the request for limiting currentusage during the holidays, the tree would only be lighted on evenings during the week of Dec. 15-19 and the following week from Dec. 22 to 26.

Stores may also use Christmas decorations which are lighted with electricity during the same period, Supt. LaFond states.

Because of the existing electricity shortage, the Chamber of Commerce directors Tuesday evening voted to cancel the proposed holiday lighting contest.

Christmas garlands have been strung across the main street at intervals but light will not be used on them this year.

Mary Louise's Party

Mary Louise Seymour, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Seymour Jr., celebrated her fourth birthday anniversary Sunday at a dinner party. A large candlelit cake decorated the table. Mary Louise received numerous gifts.

Personals

Joe Bartosz of Chicago is visiting here with his family.

Mrs. George Pilon accompanied Mrs. Eugene Auger to Iron Mountain Monday to visit relatives.

Housewarming

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Liss were pleasantly surprised at a housewarming party Saturday evening at Potvin's Fireside Room. The group enjoyed dancing, after which lunch was served. The party was arranged by Mrs. Homer Seymour Sr., Mrs. George Pilon and Mrs. Louis Butryn.

Mr. and Mrs. Liss, who received many attractive gifts, purchased the Joe Bartosz farm and moved here from Chicago this fall.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. August Fudala of Bark River, Mr. and Mrs. Zigmund Luchay, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kasbohm and Bob of Perronville and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Charboneau of Whitney.

HUGE HAILSTONES

One thunderstorm in 800 produces hail as large as walnuts and one in 5000 hail as large as baseballs, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Ranking behind chlorine as the most abundant element in sea water are sodium, magnesium, sulfur, calcium, potassium, bromine, carbon and strontium.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear son and brother, Francis, who passed away two years ago today, Dec. 11, 1950:

The month of December again is here
The saddest month of all the year,
For it was on a December Day
The one we loved was called away.
God took him home, it was his will
But in our hearts he liveth still.

Sadly missed by

Ban On Viewing Bodies Lifted At Arlington

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army has lifted its ban which kept relatives from viewing the bodies of dead servicemen at burial ceremonies at Arlington National Cemetery.

Charles E. Burnett, who resigned as an Arlington cemetary funeral director in protest to the original order, said: "This is pretty much what I have been fighting for."

The Army, announcing yesterday that it would permit bodies to be viewed at Arlington under certain "very liberal" conditions, said the ban still stands at other military cemeteries because it lacked personnel and facilities to handle the job.

Outlaw King Seized With Help Of Owl

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP)—Superstition has cost Pakistan's outlaw king his liberty.

Mohammad Rahim, captured without a fight in his hideout, confessed to police they caught him only because the hooting of an owl caused him to abandon a projected trip the night of their raid. "Everyone knows you shouldn't carry on with your plans if you hear the sound of an owl," he told his captors.

Mohammad Rahim, who claims to be king of the Hurs, a Sind provincial tribe which began an anti-British movement in 1912, had a reward of $7,500 on his head.

Vote Recount Started Here

Recount of gubernatorial votes cast in Schoolcraft County at the general election was started at 10 a. m. yesterday in the Circuit Court room of the county building.

Two precincts—City 1 and 4—had been completed by 3 p. m. and a start made on a third. It is expected that the recount may require at least three full days, with counting taking place between 10 a. m. and 5 p. m.

One vote was taken from Alger and given to Williams in precinct 1 but the recount made no change in 4 where a total of 845 valid votes for governor were cast. Alger received 559 and Williams 286 in this voting district.

Votes are being recounted under the supervision of the county canvassing board composed of D. J. Harrington, chairman; C. L. Smith and Roy Roberts. The recount board consists of E. R. Monroe, John B. Nessman and Bernice Mathson.

William J. Sheahan, prosecuting attorney, is in general charge of the recount as representative of the state board of canvassers and special attorney general.

William McMahon, of Newberry Circuit Court reporter, is official recount stenographer. Checkers are G. S. Johnson and Stephen Johnson for the Democratic county committee and John M. Hewitt for the Republican committee. William Hood is Republican attorney, and Prentiss M. Brown Jr., of St. Ignace, is attorney for Democrats.

Ballots are being guarded by Trooper Jack Ebli, of the Michigan State Police, and special officers. State police also are collecting and transporting ballot boxes to the recount headquarters.

Germfask Man Dies Yesterday

Ovid George Swisher, 48, of Germfask, died yesterday at the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital where he had been a patient for 18 days.

He was born Jan. 3, 1904, in Remus, Mich., but had been a resident of Germfask for many years. He was a mechanic by trade.

Survivors are his wife, of Germfask; six sons, Edward, Larry, Andrew and Ovid Jr., of Germfask, George, of Blaney and Reuben, of Ann Arbor; three daughters, Mrs. Herbert Latsch and Barbara and Helen, Germfask; his mother, Mrs. Adeline Ensign, Newberry; four brothers, Arden, Detroit, Herman, Newberry,, and Richard and Lorne, Germfask; five sisters, Mrs. Ling Burns, Germfask, Mrs. Emil Ketola and Mrs. Clem Weirtella of Seney, Mrs. Ila Tervo, Ann Arbor and Mrs. Ernest Derwin Jr., Manistique; and four grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held from the Grace Lutheran Church, Germfask, at 2:30 p. m. Saturday, with the Rev. G. Bradgon Smith, of Newberry, officiating. Burial will take place in Germfask under the direction of the Kefauver and Jackson Funeral Home.

The body will be at the funeral home here until Saturday noon.

VFW Honors Joe Levine

Joe Levine, a farm equipment and livestock dealer in Manistique for many years, was paid high tribute for his helpfulness and generosity by the Manistique VFW Post and its auxinary at a testimonial banquet program Tuesday evening.

Highlighting the event was the presentation of a certificate to Levine by Everett Anderson, 14th district VFW president, who said that one reason Levine was so helpful to the Veterans of Foreign Wars was because he knew the evils of totalitarian government and appreciated the price American foreign service veterans had paid to preserve freedom.

Levine, he said, was born in Russia where fear, hatred and distrust are rampant today. Because of this, he stated, he probably appreciated even more than native born Americans the pricelessness of liberty.

Others who joined in extending tribute to the guest of honor were John Nessman, VFW commander; Mrs. James Howland, VFW Auxiliary president; Mrs. Albert Ackerman, Mrs. Fred Williams and Mrs. Earl Malloch, past auxiliary presidents; Donald MacLean, Ivor Willcock, Albert Ackerman and Leonard Walters, past VFW commanders.

Walters and Ackerman, unable to attend the program, sent messages which were read at the session.

Lionel Mercier officiated as toastmaster.

Levine was credited by the VFW with being responsible for the organization's present club building, donating the land on which it was erected and helping in many other ways to strengthen and improve the post.

Parochial School Cage Tourney Slated Here

The sixth annual Upper Peninsula Parochial high school basketball tournament will be held at the St. Joe gym Dec. 28, 29 and 30, it was announced this morning by Fr. Stephen Schneider, athletic director.

St. Joe's Bonifas gymnasium was named the site of the Parochail tournament by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. David Speigatti, head of the Diocesan Sodality Union which sponsors the tournament.

Drawing for the tournament will be held at Marquette in the near future. Five, and possibly six, teams will take part in the tourney. The host St. Joe team, defending champion, St. Ambrose of Ironwood, Sacred Heart of Laurium, St. Paul of Negaunee and Baraga of Marquette will take party. Loretto of Sault Ste. Marie may also enter this year.

Tourney Schedule

Loretto may not be able to take part because of conference commitments, however. The school competed in the tournament in 1947 and 1948 but not since.

The tournament schedule will call for one game on Sunday night, Dec. 28, two on Monday night and consolation and championships on Tuesday night.

At stake in the tournament will be the Fr. Patrick McArron Memorial trophy which was recently donated by the St. Joe Booster Club. The new trophy replaces the Msgr. Buchholtz trophy which was retired by the Trojans last season when they won the tournament championship for the third straight year. Coach Tom St. Germain's Trojans have won the Parochial tournament four of the past five years. St. Ambrose copped the crown once.

Trojans Get Bye

As the host school, St. Joe will draw an automatic bye in the tournament pairings for opening round action.

Committees set up to conduct the tournament were announced as follows:

Housing—Cliff Vadnais and Elmer Bonifas. Program—Francis Rooney, Marcel Guindon, Frank Mink, Joe Kroll and John Rogers. Food—Tom McDonough.

Davey Gets Quick Kayo

CLEVELAND (AP)—Chuck Davey who fights like a champion and talks like the teacher he used to be, pronounced himself fit and ready today for his welterweight title bout.

The Michigan State graduate went through a mild preparatory workout Wednesday night in scoring a third round technical knockout over hopelessly outclassed Fitzie Pruden of Paterson, N. J.

As the blonde-haired Lansing, Mich., fighter carefully knotted his tie after the fight—no sport shirts for this fellow—a reporter asked him if he was hit even once in the bout.

"Oh, yes," the gentleman of the ring replied. "He's a tough kid. I stayed ahead of his right. He jabbed me a few times and landed a few left hooks."

Davey, who holds a master's degree from Michigan State and is on leave of absence from the college's English department, is tentatively set for a February title bout against welterweight champion Kid Gavilan in Chicago.

His nationally-televised victory over Pruden came to an abrupt end. Davey poured an almost continuous stream of lightning jabs into Pruden's face. He staggered Pruden in the second round and then floored him for an eight-count in the third.

Pruden struggled gamely to his feet, but Referee Jackie Davis stepped in and halted the bout.

Kerr Hits 34 Points As Illini Win Opener

CHICAGO (AP)—There were times last season when Johnny Kerr, Illinois' red-thatched 6-10 center, had to be told by Coach Harry Combes to do more shooting.

This modesty now seems to have dissolved. The towering junior from Chicago's Tilden Tech, one inch taller than last year, flicked in 34 points last night as the Illini marked their 1952-53 debut with a 71-57 trouncing of Loyola.

Kerr played all of the game but the final 3½ minutes. He pumped in 10 points in the first quarter, nine in the second, five in the third and 10 more in the fourth.

Loyola Led

Loyola grabbed leads of 17-15 and 19-17 in the second period before Illinois forged ahead 36-28 at halftime. The Chicago team led by Bob Collins' 12 points, scored 19 points in the third and closed the gap to 50-47.

Then the Illini uncorked 21 points in the fourth quarter, led by Kerr, Irv Bemoras with five points and Jim Bredar with four.

The Illini, favored to capture their third straight Big Ten title and ranked No. 1 nationally in many pre-season polls, used eight players. Bemoras with 17 points and Bredar with 12 amply supported Kerr in one of the best scoring performances of his career. Only one sophomore got into the game. He was Ed Makovsky, 6-5, from Cicero, Ill. Ed, a fine rebounder, hit one field goal and a free throw for three points.

First Loss

The defeat was Loyola's first in four starts.

Bradley posted a 2-1 record at Peoria by trimming New Mexico Aggies 68-49. The Braves flooded the floor with 19 players with Ron Johnson, a reserve forward, topping the scoring with 14 points.

The Big Ten title campaign will open Saturday with Michigan invading Iowa. In non-league firing the same night, Indiana is at Kansas State, Ohio State at Butler, Wabash at Purdue, and Nebraska at Minnesota.

Illinois' next start will be a conference engagement with Michigan at Champaign, Ill., Monday.

Same Starters For Trojans Saturday Against Manistique

Coach Tom St. Germain will stick with his regular starting five as the Trojans face what will probably be their sternest cage test thus far this year at Manistique Saturday night.

John Martinac and Bob Sendenburgh will be at forwards. Dick Cass at center. Jim Gravelle and Jim Zimmerman at guards. Reserves who may be called on for game action are Bill Maycunich, Dick Bryson, David Hirn, Tom Millington, Tom Brien, Dan Marsicek and Jerry McDonough. McDonough has been ill but came out for practice today.

The Trojans will be seeking their fourth straight victory of the new season. Manistique defeated Soo in its only start this year.

Southern California Begins Bowl Practice

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)— Coach Jess Hill assembles the University of Southern California football squad today to begin serious training for the Rose Bowl game against Wisconsin.

It was disclosed that Bob Buckley, erstwhile No. 1 right halfback on offense, will miss the game. Buckley broke a collar bone in the 1952 opener against Washington State and it had been hoped he might be able to go New Year's Day.

On the doubtful list is offensive end Jim Hayes. He got a kidney injury in the Trojan's lone defeat of the season by Notre Dame.

Wisconsin is due here Dec. 17. The Badgers will train at Brookside Park near the Rose Bowl.

White Sox Announce Ticket Price Rise

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago White Sox today announced a price boost in 1953 of 50 cents for box seats at Comiskey Park and 25 cents for reserved grandstand seats.

The park's 13,156 box seats will sell for $2.50 each. The 6,394 reserved grandstand seats will be $1.75.

The unreserved grandstand seats will remain the same, $1.25, as will the bleachers at 60 cents.

Badger Quarterback Was Fifth-Stringer

By JACK BURKE

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—A 20-year old youth who jumped from fifth string to varsity quarterback in less than a month is the key man in the offense Wisconsin will throw at Southern California in the Rose Bowl football game New Year's Day.

Three weeks before Wisconsin opened its season last September the name of James Haluska, Racine sophomore, wasn't even on a list of candidates handed out by the publicity office. Four other quarterbacks were on the roster.

.563 Average

But the week of the opener against Marquette, Coach Ivy Williams announced that Haluska was his choice for the pilot's post—and the slim, quiet youngster proceeded to nail down the job at once. The quarterbacks listed on the original roster played only briefly during the year as he compiled a .563 passing average on 112 completions in 199 attempts for 1,410 yards and 12 touchdowns. Gust Vergetis, the No. 1 replacement, threw only 12 times.

Haluska got into football in the first place as a junior at St. Catherine high school in Racine. In his first season St. Catherine tied for the Milwaukee Catholic Conference championship and the next year won the title with an undefeated mark. Haluska's favorite receiver those seasons was end Don Penza, captain-elect of the 1953 Notre Dame team.

Was At Michigan

The youngster enrolled at the University of Michigan in 1950, but the Wolverines were a single wing club and Haluska was a T quarterback. So a year ago last fall he transferred to Wisconsin. Because of a Western Conference rule, he couldn't compete with the Badger junior varsity team and spent the fall of 1951 with the freshman squad.

An arm injury received in baseball practice kept the lad away from most of the spring football drills. But in September he took over as varsity quarterback and the Badgers rolled to their first share of the Big Ten grid crown in 40 years.

Sumat Misra Of India Fine Tennis Prospect

BRISBANE, Australia (AP)—India trotted out a really fine tennis player named Sumat Misra today in gaining an even break with the Italians in the opening singles matches of their Davis Cup interzone semi-final.

Misra, a big tall fellow with a terrific service, blasted Rolando Del Bello off the court, 6-4, 6-4, 6-1, after Fausto Gardini had put the Italians in front with a 6-1, 5-7, 6-4, 6-2 victory over Naresh Kumar.

Friday's doubles pit the two-man India team against the veteran pair, Gianni Cucelli and Marcello Del Bello.

With Ray Crandall

We doubt if the new basketball foul rule which went into effect this season will be continued next year . . Haven't heard a coach, player or fan in favor of the new rule which provides a second free throw if the first is missed (except in the final three minutes of play in which all fouls provide two free throws) . . There are many criticisms being voiced around the Upper Peninsula.

• • • • •

It certainly doesn't seem as though the new rule accomplishes what is was intended to . . The object was to cut down on fouling by making the foul penalty more severe . . However, the boys are committing just as many fouls as in the past—an indication that it isn't the players who are at fault but the rules which officials are forced to call in regard to fouling . . As a result, the games are being slowed down considerably by lengthy free throw exhibitions . . In recent years every trend in basketball has been to speed up the game, but the new foul rule defeats that.

• • • • •

Some critics point out that the new rule is unfair in that it reduces the value of excellence from the free throw line . . In the past a few players were able to cash in heavily on gift tosses by virtue of their shooting ability . . Now, they say, almost any player can step up and get a point from a normal one-shot foul . . If he misses his first one he will more than likely get his second one.

• • • • •

We had a chance to see the truth in that last claim by critics . . It happened in the Escanaba-Marinette game here Nov. 29 . . In the first period Marinette players stepped to the free throw line four straight times and missed their first shots but made the second attempt . . The fifth Marinette player who was fouled broke the string by making his first attempt . . That was one case where the four extra free throws provided four points.

• • • • •

One of the most often heard criticisms of basketball is that the rules are being changed too much . . We've heard former officials say they wouldn't dare try to handle a game today . . "Wouldn't know the first thing about all these new rules they've put into effect," they say . . Many fans feel the same, and it's our guess that the current foul rule experiment will be outvoted by the time another season rolls around.

Fans Name Six Hawks For All-Star Contest

Ben Artwich, Jerry Tagliabracci, Mark and Ted Olson, Joe Ricci and Ed Broughton are the six Hawk hockey players selected by Escanaba fans to represent this city on the all-star Northern Michigan league team.

They will join six all-stars from Calumet and six from Marquette, also selected by a fan poll, to battle the champion Portage Lake Pioneers in the league's first annual all-star game in the Marquette Palestra this Saturday night, beginning at 8. Selections in Marquette and Calumet have not been announced as yet.

In addition to the six Hawks named above, Guy Poce and Burt Petaja also polled a heavy vote but clubs making up the all-star roster are limited to six players each. Tagliabracci has been notified of his selection, and it is hoped he will be in the lineup Saturday night. He is at his home in Sault Ste. Marie, Ont.

Artwich On Hand

Artwich will join the squad from his home in Stambaugh, and Broughton likewise will journey from Manistique to participate in the all-star game. If Tagliabracci finds it impossible to join the group, the Escanaba Hockey Association has permission to use George Schultz as a replacement. Schultz is a newly-ackuired defenseman from Winnipeg, Manitoba. Poce is in the U. S. Army, and Petaja is in Detroit.

Considerable interest in the all-star clash has been shown by fans in the Escanaba area who are eager to see their favorite stars in action against the powerful Pioneers. Tony, Mike and Joe Bukovich and Bernie and Jackie Ruelle will pace the champions.

The program at the Marquette Palestra will start at 4 Saturday afternoon when Douglas Young, former Detroit Red Wing star and captain, will conduct an officials' school. Jim Rattray, of Gladstone, and Mel Bertrand, of Escanaba, will attend from this area. Other persons who would like to attend may make arrangements by contacting Mark Olson.

Officials' Clinic

Northern Michigan league officials from Calumet, Houghton, Escanaba and Marquette will learn how they do it in the National Hockey league. Young has been an NHL official ever since his playing career ended.

NM officers are particularly interested in training Upper Peninsula officials to use hand and arm signals so that fans will know what is going on. Young will stress this factor plus the officials' general conduct on the ice.

A pre-game demonstration of officiating is slated for 8 p. m. Saturday. The all-star battle will be handled by Young, who will select his linesmen from among those attending the school.

Miami Open Golf Play Gets Under Way Today

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The wide open scramble for the $10,000 Miami Open golf championship begins today over the 7,010-yard Miami Springs golf course with 145 pros and 21 amateurs competing.

With defending champion Sam Snead in California making a motion picture, together with National Open Champion Julius Boros, there is no outstanding favorite.

Snead, five times winner of this medal play event, took last year's top money of $2,000 with his 268 for the 72 holes.

Haney Will Manage Pirates If Branch Rickey Says So

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Fred Haney, skipper of the highly successful Hollywood Stars of the Pacific Coast League, put it squarely up to General Manager Branch Rickey of the Pittsburgh Pirates today whether he will sign as Buc field manager.

After flying here from the West Coast for a meeting with Rickey, Haney was asked bluntly if he will sign with the last-place Bucs. He replied:

Up To Rickey

"If Mr. Rickey wants me to do I may. It's up to him. I would do it for him, because I feel I owe him an obligation for helping my Hollywood team."

Rickey invited Haney to his palatial suburan home for a 10 a.m. conference. Although Rickey has been hinting for weeks that he's tabbed Haney to succeed Bill Meyer, the Pirate executive said:

"There are several things dependent on the decision, the main one being if he wants to become the Pirate manager."

Contract Trouble

There has been considerable conjecture that Haney wants more than a one-year contract, the kind preferred by Rickey. However, Rickey said:

"We have never reached the point of talking in terms of salary and length of contract. I am sure that we will have no trouble along that line."

When Rickey was in the front office of the Brooklyn Dodgers he sent several players to Hollywood. Rickey has done the same with Buc players and Haney has profited. He won the Coast League pennant in 1949 and again in 1952.

Braves Host To Emeralds In Great Lakes Cage Tilt

GLADSTONE — The Gladstone High School Braves entertain Manistique on the local court Friday evening. The game will follow a preliminary between the reserve quints of the two schools which is scheduled to begin at 7.

It will be the first Great Lakes conference tilt for the Braves.

Coach Eldon Keil was pleased with the work of his charges against the highly favored St. Joseph Parochials last weekend and believes that this was just what was needed for the boys to 'find' themselves and give them the confidence needed to create a winning team.

Play of the Braves was greatly improved over that in the opener before Thanksgiving and in practice sessions this week the team has looked even better.

The local mentor is planning to stick with his starting five: namely Jerry Norick and Tom Moreau, forwards; Capt. Martin Becker, center, and Duane Peterson and Norbert Butler, guards. It is likely that reserve forward Dick Switzer will see action and others ready for the call are Dick Goodman, Roger Carlson, John Quinn and Bob Sandstrom.

Evan Kelley and C. J. St. Germaine, both of Marquette, will handle the games.

Frankie Albert In Final Game

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)— Frankie Albert—who rose from a benchwarming substitute in 1939 to All-America quarterback for Stanford in 1940 and has stayed a T-formation wizard ever since—closes out his spectacular career Sunday.

The master of the bootleg play announced that his appearance with the San Francisco 49ers here against the Green Bay Packers in the windup of the National League season will be his last.

The 32-year-old 49er quarterback is associated with an automobile agency in Palo Alto, where he makes his home, and also conducts a weekly television program. He says he is not interested in coaching college football.

For seven seasons, Albert has been the guiding genius of the 49ers T-formation attack. He has thrown 1,538 passes, completed 615 for 10,582 yards and 114 touchdowns.

In 1948 he shared the All America Conference "most valuable player" award with Otto Graham of the Cleveland Browns. He's sixth in the National League's passing yardage column this season.

Eskymos Eye Third Win At Iron Mountain Gym

The Escanaba Eskymos will be shooting for their third straight cage victory when they invade the Iron Mountain High School gymnasium tomorrow night.

Coach Burt Gustafson's Esky courtsters lost their opener to the St. Joe Trojans but came back to post successive wins over Marinette and Marquette.

The Mountaineers have split in a pair of starts this season, losing to Ishpeming and defeating Niagara, Wis. Following the Iron Mountain outing, Escanaba will entertain Ishpeming in the final pre-Christmas game on Dec. 19.

The Eskymos will be without the services of George Bartley, guard, who underwent a knee operation at Marquette this week. Likely Eskymo starters are John and Dick Peterson at forwards, Fred Boddy at center and Bill LeMire and Jim Bolm at guards. Available for reserve action will be Tom Gregoire, Pat McDonough, Arni Dunathan, Bill McGovern, Paul Menard and Paul Davidson.

Iron Mountain is well fortified with veterans from last year's team and is expected to be one of the powers in the Menominee Range Conference this season.

Want Heavyweight Championship Bout For Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (AP) —A California boxing commissioner has announced the launching of a campaign to bring the Rocky Marciano-Joe Walcott heavyweight championship fight here.

Commissioner Everett Sanders said today that President Jim Norris of the International Boxing Club and Al Weill, Marciano's manager, have agreed to meet with him here in a few weeks to discuss the possibilities.

Former heavyweight king Jack Dempsey probably would promote the bout, said Sanders, predicting it would draw a gate of 1½ to two million dollars if staged in Memorial Coliseum.

Sides Line Up In Cleveland Battle

CLEVELAND (AP)—The struggle for power in the Cleveland Indians' front office broke into open warfare today.

In the one camp: Ellis Ryan, the club's 48-year-old president, who announced his intention to fight for the job he has held three years. Five directors are on his side. Ryan also is a director.

In the other faction: Six directors and most of the officers in the baseball club, led by Vice President George Medinger. They want Ryan replaced by Medinger. They have asked for a showdown stockholders meeting a week from today.

In a neutral corner: Hank Greenberg, general manager. His job seems safe, since he has two years remaining in his contract at $65,000 a year and both sides say they want him to stay.

Lions' Christiansen Will Be Moved To Offense Spot

DETROIT (AP)—Jack Christiansen almost lost the use of his left arm when a bullet buried itself just below the shoulder in an accidental shooting six years ago.

Today the wing-footed Christiansen is hailed by Coach Buddy Parker of the Detroit Lions as—well, let Buddy say it:

"Jack will become one of pro football's greatest offensive halfbacks. We haven't given him much chance on offense yet but we will."

Offensive Chance

Buddy wasn't kidding —he will give Christiansen, who never carried the ball on offense before last Sunday, a chance.

In fact, Buddy will start him Saturday afternoon at right halfback in the payoff game with the Dallas Texans. A victory will give the Lions a certain tie for the National Conference title of the National Football League.

Christiansen replaces injured Bob Hoernschemeyer, the Lions leading ground gainer.

Last week Christiansen ably replaced Hunchy. Jack gained 59 yards to lead the Lion backfield in a 45-21 victory over the Chicago Bears.

Heavy Favorites

The Lions will be favored by 20 or 30 points to beat the Texans, who won only one game.

Meanwhile the Los Angeles Rams, tied with the Lions, face the Pittsburgh Steelers on the coast.

If the Lions and Rams tie they'll meet here in Detroit Dec. 21 to decide who meets the American Conference winner.

As for Christiansen, he's already known as a star defensive halfback. Last year he ranked second in the league in punt returns and this week he's leading in that department.

Jack never dreamed of this fame back in Colorado. He was a high school football star, of course. But on Halloween during his senior year a police officer wildly fired a bullet at a group of high school youths as they ran down the street when he commanded them to stop.

Hit Nerve

The bullet hit a nerve in Jack's arm and for months he couldn't raise the arm above his shoulder. The police officer quit his job because of the accident and most folks figured Jack would never again play football.

Jack enrolled at Colorado A & M. The feeling in his arm came back and he shifted from intramural sports to the varsity. He was a star in his junior and senior year.

Subsequently Jack, now 28, was taken by the Lions in the football draft.

Today, in his second season, the Colorado kid with the question-mark arm is ready to help offensively in the Lions' drive toward a pro football championship.

Sports Roundup

By JOHN F. MAYHEW

ANN ARBOR (AP)—There's a lot of classy amateur basketball talent organized here under the name "Wolverine All-Stars."

Under sponsorship of a local laundry, the squad includes former court stars from Michigan, Yale and Michigan State Normal College.

From Michigan are Mack Suprunowicz, highest scorer in Michigan basketball history, Jim Skala, Bill Doyle, Chuck Murray, Dave Strack and Tom Tiernan.

Also on the squad are Jim Gault, one-time Yale letterman and Jim Snyder, former Michigan State Normal College star.

The Wolverine All-Stars have scheduled games and exhibitions throughout the state.

He's only five-feet, eight-inches tall. And he's currently the lowest scorer among the Michigan basketball regulars. But he's a highly important cog in the 1952-53 basketball team.

That's a thumb-nail description of Doug Lawrence, alternate guard and captain of the Wolverine quintet.

Lawrence's big asset is a tireless enthusiasm for Michigan and the game. When the Wolverines sag a bit, it is Lawrence that Coach Bill Perigo calls on to move into one of the guard spots. He peps up the squad, partly by direction and partly by example.

The stocky little Fort Wayne, Ind., athlete doesn't insure a Michigan victory when he darts into the lineup. But, he does insure a lift in the Wolverine effort.

And wherever Michigan finishes this season, it's a cinch Lawrence will be a large factor as he has for the past two years.

Michigan Football Coach Bennie Oosterbaan quickly substituted speaking engagements for football at the end of the season. But in between, he had one highly-enjoyable moment of relaxation.

It was the Army-Navy game, the Saturday after Michigan's season closed.

"I went home, put my feet up, and really enjoyed it," he said. "It's some experience to watch one without being directly affected."

Pupils Protest Teacher Transfer

TEL AVIV (AP) — When their eighth grade teacher was transferred to another class recently, his 30 pupils, all about 14, started a minor revolution that lasted four days before peace was restored.

The pupils left their class, marched through corridors, upset tables and finally organized a demonstration aided by their parents. Protests were made to educational authorities who relented and restored their teacher, Ben Moshe.

Furniture Industry Looks For Another Big Year In 1953

By NATHAN SHAPIRO

CHICAGO (AP)—The furniture industry had a good year in 1952, and expects another in 1953.

"This year was another banner year, and all indications are that 1953 will be one," said Roscoe R. Rau, executive vice president of the National Retail Furniture Association.

Rau said that if business for the last three months of 1952 held pace with the first nine months, the total would top 1952's $3,350,000,000 volume by $40,200,000 or 1.2 per cent.

Net Profits Drop

The figures, compiled by Rau's ascsociation, include sales in furniture stores of furniture, floor coverings, appliances and miscellaneous goods. The last category includes housewares, linens, toys, curtains, draperies, china and glass.

There is a small, discouraging fly in this ointment, however. Although business volumne went up, net profits went down, said Rau. One of the reasons was the retailer's problem of getting away from and overstocked condition early in the year. Rau said dealers met this problem well.

Another factor in this story of bigger volume with less net profit was the increase in charges for shipping goods from manufacturing centers to the stores.

Stylewise, "modern" furniture again led the way this year. "Furniture stores sales in 1952 showed a continuation of the definite demand for modern or contemporary stylings," Rau said.

No More Shortages

What does the crystal ball show for 1953 business?

Retail prices during the coming year are expected to remain generally steady. Worry over shortages is no more, especially in the case of metals.

Stylings developed in 1952 will get greater emphasis in 1953. These include wood graining techniques, and combinations of metals, Thermoset plastics, glass and marble with wood. New carpets of cotton and man-made fibers are on the market. Fabric fibers like nylon, orlon and dacron are now introduced for upholstery and window draperies.

In household appliances, refrigerators are increasing in storage space without sacrificing over-all cubic foot size. The home freezer has become a "wanted" item.

Many manufacturers are incorporating oversized 30 - inch ovens in regular stoves. Some makers are bringing out upright stoveovens so that housewives can forget their stooping.

COWPOKES SET

LARAMIE, Wyo. (AP)—The Wyoming Cowboys will take the floor this season with four lettermen and a sophomore as Coach Ev. Shelton's starting quintet. Bob Burns and Pete Fowler are the forwards. Ron Rivers is the center with Bill Sharp and Harry Jorgensen at guard. Jorgensen is a 6-6 Brighton, Colo., sophomore. Rivers, Burns and Fowler are back from last season's Sykline Conference championship team. Sharp earned his letter as a soph during the 1949-50 season and has just returned from duty with Uncle Sam.
